Vincent Massey Named New Governor-General

VISCOUNT ALEXANDER

Alexander Vacates Post Monday To Take "Other Responsibilities"

OTTAWA, Jan. 24 (CP)—Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey has been appointed Canada's first native-born Governor-General, it was announced officially tonight.

He succeeds Viscount Alexander, who relinquishes his post here Jan. 28 to assume "other responsibilities" presumably an appointment as defense minister in the United Kingdom cabinet.

Mr. Massey's appointment and Viscount Alexander's retirement were announced tonight from Buckingham Palace in London and confirmed here in a statement by Prime Minister St. Laurent.

The date of Mr. Massey's assumption of office was not disclosed.

The office will be handled by the Administrator Chief Justice Thibaudeau Rinfret of the Supreme Court of Canada until Mr. Massey assumes his duties.

Mr. Massey, chancellor of the University of Toronto, is 64. He now is on a visit to the United Kingdom.

85-YEAR SPAN

Mr. Massey's appointment ends an 85-year span during which Britons have held the vice-regal post.

Mr. Massey is perhaps best known to his fellow-Canadians as chancellor of the University of Toronto, chairman of the Royal Commission on Arts, Letters and Sciences and Canadian high commissioner to Britain from 1935 to 1946.

However, he brings to his vice-regal post a broad experience in the industrial, cultural and educational life of this country. He also has a long record of government service.

He studied at the University of Toronto and in 1910 went to Oxford. He returned to the University of Toronto and lectured on modern history from 1913 to 1915.

In 1918 he was associate secretary of the war cabinet and director of the government's repatriation committee.

PRIVATE BUSINESS

He went into private business a year later, as secretary and director of Massey-Harris Company. Two years later—at 34—he became president, a job he held until he retired to enter politics.

He joined the Mackenzie King cabinet as minister without portfolio in September, 1925, but was defeated at the polls the following month.

His appointment to Washington as first Canadian minister was announced the following year.

For a brief period in 1930, Mr. Massey was Canadian High Commissioner to London, but in name only. He had been appointed to the post in July while in Washington, but lost the chance to go overseas when the Liberal government was defeated by the Conservatives in August.

The late Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett assumed the prime ministership and told Mr. Massey he believed it would be better if he resigned. Mr. Massey agreed, and went out of public life until the Liberals, then returned to power, revived his appointment to London in 1935.

Alexander Put Zest Into Duties

OTTAWA, Jan. 24 (CP)—Nobody should be surprised that Viscount Alexander has become the first of Canada's 17 governors-general to go back home to enter politics. It's only his last of a lot of "firsts" in Canada.

In six Canadian years, this peer and son of a peer has done all sorts of things his predecessors never did and earned the admiration and the friendship of the Canadian people in doing them.

He introduced square-dancing to staid old Government House, drove his own jeep in the hills to find good places to paint the scenery, once pushed a skier's car out of a snowbank, slid down a firemen's pole, adopted a daughter during a visit to Britain, and occasionally spoke his mind publicly, which a governor-general is not supposed to do.

As a final departure from the traditional vice-regal mold, he pitched in with a water-bucket brigade Wednesday when he chanced upon a farmhouse fire while returning home from skiing.

Viscount Alexander's activities here touched many fields. A crack miler in his youth, he showed a fondness for athletics which took him to hockey games, took him frequently into the Gatineau Hills to ski, took him thousands of miles to fish and made him the champion kicker-off in Canadian football.

He studied French here and painted Canadian scenes for his own Christmas cards. He slotted a firemen's pole one time during a visit and slid down to satisfy a lifelong curiosity.

When Mr. Churchill came back to power a few months ago, Viscount Alexander broke tradition by saying that he was pleased.

During his term here, his daughter Rose took a job as a stenographer in the Ottawa office of an insurance firm.

Office 344 Years Old

OTTAWA, Jan. 24 (CP)—Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Canada's new governor-general, is the 56th of a line of governors-general that goes back to Champlain, who assumed that office in 1608. He is the 18th since confederation and the first Canadian since then.

The governor-general is styled "His Excellency," the title Mr. Massey now will assume. He tops Canada's official Table of Precedence and is followed by the prime minister.

The governor-general receives an annual government grant of $48,067—a translation from the old sterling rate of $4.68—and a traveling allowance of $50,000. However, he meets the basic expenses of running Rideau Hall—servants' salaries, entertainment, food, light and heat—and the grant usually is exhausted.

Mr. Massey is the first Canadian to get the job. His appointment leaves Ceylon the only dominion whose governor-general, Lord Soulbury, is a Briton. Australia, India, New Zealand, Pakistan and South Africa have natives in the position.

Thousands of Canadian soldiers, including many Victorians, recall Canada's newly-appointed governor-general, Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey and Mrs. Massey with gratitude.

Canadian officers on convalescence were guests at the Massey Castle, "Garnons," in Hereford, until complete recovery. All bills were paid by the new governor-general, who hosted the officers at fine dinners every Saturday evening when he was down from London for the week end.

Banks Keeping To Credit Plan

OTTAWA, Jan. 24 (CP)—Canada's chartered banks have agreed to continue application of restrictions on their lending operations, Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, announced tonight.

New Commissioner Takes Over

Ex-Mayor Percy George sits in his new office as chairman of the Public Utilities Commission and begins a thorough study of the Public Utilities Act. Two other commission members—D. K. Penfold and R. E. Potter—declined to be photographed with their new boss. (See story on page 11. Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

Labor Relaxes Penfold Attack

By FRANK MEADE

British Columbia labor yesterday took the pressure off D. K. Penfold, former acting chairman of the Public Utilities Commission.

With the exception of the powerful Street Railwaymen's Union (A.F.L.-T.L.C.), the majority of spokesmen for organized labor appeared satisfied with the appointment of Percy George as permanent P.U.C. chairman.

Stan Wilcox, president of the S.R.U., said in Vancouver, however, that much as Victoria's ex-mayor is respected, his union feels that the appointment was "purely political expediency on behalf of Premier Johnson.

"The rebuff to Mr. Penfold by the premier should, if Mr. Penfold is intelligent, cause him to submit his resignation.

"The S.R.U. will wait and see what action Mr. Penfold takes before any further course is taken by our organization," Mr. Wilcox said.

OBJECTED TO VIEWS

The S.R.U. was instrumental in swinging weight of the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council behind a resolution demanding Mr. Penfold's resignation, because of "anti-labor" remarks made during a commission hearing in Victoria.

R. K. Gervin, secretary of the Vancouver T.L.C. council, however, said that Mr. Penfold had been removed from the chairman's position, which was all that the resolution demanded.

George Home of Vancouver, secretary of the British Columbia Federation of Labor, which represents Canadian Congress of Labor affiliates, said that he was pleased with Premier Johnson's treatment of "the indiscreet remarks of Mr. Penfold."

The federation, however, had taken no official action on the matter.

Resolutions dealing with the P.U.C., however, will come before the B.C.F.L. convention in Vancouver next week, Mr. Home said.

In Victoria, Robert Smeal, president of the C.C.L. council, said only that the council "will wait and see" how Mr. George performs his P.U.C. duties.

Said Percy Rayment, secretary of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (A.F.L.-T.L.C.),

"I think Mr. George would have been better placed in the department of municipal affairs. However, I am sure that in his new job, he will do his utmost to see that the people get a break.

"After the recent exhibition of partiality by two of his board members (Mr. Penfold and commissioner R. T. Potter) his will be no easy task." It will take all his courage."

Water Board Trims Commissioner's Pay

Ralph Davis Warns He Plans to Resign

By RAY BAINES

Resignation of water commissioner Ralph Davis may be imminent following a stormy, cost-slashing meeting of the water board yesterday in which his salary was cut an estimated $1,500 a year.

Upon hearing the news of the salary cut from Greater Victoria Water Board chairman Reeve Joseph Casey, Mr. Davis announced that he would resign immediately.

He was asked by the chairman to remain until a sub-committee, struck to study the commissioner's salary schedule, could report to a further meeting of the board.

In the meantime, a motion from Mayor Claude Harrison setting the commissioner's salary at $7,000 a year plus gasoline allowance has been passed.

CLUB DUES PAID

Mr. Davis' salary in 1951 has been about $7,900 a year plus the use of a car with all expenses paid and $120 dues to the Union Club.

The board calculated that the car item was equivalent to another $600 a year.

It was the club dues that really raised the roof.

Both Ald. Waldo Skillings and the mayor bitterly opposed payment of the club dues.

"That's the sort of thing that takes the taxpayer's money," said the mayor.

Ald. Skillings said he would never approve "a thing like that in a million years" and Ald. Percy Scurrah said he was "shocked" to find the item in the budget.

The eruption occurred when the board met to consider the 1952 estimates. Ald. Skillings and the mayor led the discussion with a series of rapid-fire questions directed at clerk-accountant regarding budget items.

FIRST SITTING

This was the first sitting of the 1952 water board with Ald. Skillings, Mayor Harrison, Ald. Robert Macmillan and Ald. Scurrah all new city representatives.

Reeve Casey represents Saanich, Reeve A. C. Wurtele sits for Esquimalt and Reeve P. A. Gibbs for Oak Bay.

In making the motion to reduce the commissioner's salary, Mayor Harrison said he had nothing personal against Mr. Davis but declared "we are here as trustees of public monies."

"A salary of $7,000 is quite adequate. It's a good salary. I must remain adamant on that," he said.

His motion was seconded by Ald. Skillings and passed with one dissenting vote, cast by Reeve Gibbs.

COMMISSIONER RALPH DAVIS

Higher Water Rate Being Considered

Consumers of the Greater Victoria water area may be in for a rate increase this year.

The Greater Victoria Water Board yesterday approved a recommendation of commissioner Ralph Davis that the charge to the municipalities be raised from 8 to 8½ cents for each 1,000 gallons.

The question came up when the 1952 board met to consider the $388,583 budget for the year.

Mr. Davis explained that while the budget was only up $4,000 over that of last year, he had to allow for a possibility of selling less water in 1952.

The board was able to operate on the eight-cent rate last year because of the unusually dry summer and the consequent increased sale of water throughout Greater Victoria, the commissioner said.

Mayor Claude Harrison and Ald. Waldo Skillings, sitting for the first time on the board, expressed concern over the tendency for the rate to increase a little every year. They both raised heated questions of cost when the budget was being considered.

Although the city and municipalities sell the water at a profit, they may not necessarily pass the increase on to the consumers.

It will be up to the city and municipal councils to decide if the increased charge to them warrants a consequent increase to the consumers.

Police Seeking Child Snatcher

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 24 (AP).—Police searched methodically through the city tonight for a three-year-old girl and the man who snatched her from her front yard Wednesday.

The kidnapping was in a neighborhood where four other attempts to snatch children had been made in two months. It was the first successful kidnapping there, and police had few clues.

Churchill Carries Political Bomb

LONDON, Jan. 24 (Reuters).—Prime Minister Churchill will return here Monday carrying political dynamite which threatens to split the Labor opposition wide open on Far Eastern policy.

Key question is what he meant by his promise to the United States Congress to support "resolute and effective" action if Chinese Communists violate a truce in Korea.

If he meant the bombing of Chinese air bases and nothing else in Manchuria, the moderate socialists led by Clement Attlee and Herbert Morrison will support him, according to authoritative labor sources.

By doing so they will risk the most bitter battle yet waged against them by Aneurin Bevan and his group of left-wingers.

But if Churchill tells parliament next week that he is prepared for a limited war, such as bombing the Chinese mainland aside from airbases in Manchuria, then both right and left wings of the Labor party will unite against him.

The conditions under which Attlee and his lieutenants would agree to the bombing of Manchurian air bases are reliably reported to be:

1. That Britain is consulted first.

2. That Chinese planes attacking United Nations troops have been definitely established as coming from these bases.

3. That no other targets are attacked in China.

Auto Workers Defer Strike

WINDSOR, Ont., Jan. 24 (CP)—The executive board of Local 200, the United Automobile Workers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), agreed tonight to defer a Sunday Ford strike deadline.

Union officials said the local's negotiating committee will meet Labor Minister Daley of Ontario Monday to discuss a wage contract dispute in connection with which the union last night issued a strike call.

Two City Cars Keep Company

City police are still scratching their heads over this hit-and-run accident at Vancouver and Johnson yesterday afternoon.

Victim of the collision was a car owned by Jack Hilliard, 3940 Winton.

The way police explained the accident, the driver of a grey car hooked his rear bumper to the front one of Hilliard's small car, which was parked at the curb.

The grey car and Hilliard's driverless vehicle went up Johnson to Cook and then south on Cook to Yates, where they finally parted.

Damage was minor, according to police, but they are anxious to locate the driver of the other car.

Viscount Helps to Fight Fire, Runs Big Car as Ambulance

OTTAWA, Jan. 24 (CP).—It seems Viscount Alexander, soon to quit his post as governor-general, just can't help getting in the news.

Wednesday he helped fight a Gatineau farmhouse fire. Late today he used his vice-regal limousine as an ambulance to bring an injured girl to an Ottawa hospital from the Gatineau hills where he goes skiing.

The girl, Miss Gladys Newin, an Ottawa telephone operator, fractured her ankle while skiing. The governor-general arranged to have her transported to hospital in the vice-regal car.

The Viscount Wednesday carried buckets of water at the direction of an 11-year-old country boy as he pitched in to help fight a farmhouse chimney fire he came upon while driving back from a skiing trip in the Gatineau hills.

He went to work beside Leo and Pkt Mulvihill, 11 and 13 years old, as they fought to save their home in bitterly cold weather.

Leo was upstairs working at the fire through a stovepipe hole when Viscount Alexander turned up.

"The governor-general," said Leo today, "came up with a pail of water, handed it to me and said, 'What do you want now?'

"I said, 'Go and get some more water.'

"He just went off and did it."

Besides lugging water up the twisting staircase, the Viscount also helped stuff sacks and rags into the chimney to halt the draft that was driving flames up the flue.

Meanwhile, he sent his automobile to pick up Mrs. Gladwin Mulvihill, widowed mother of the boys.

The car brought back fire extinguishers, too, and Viscount Alexander manned one.

When the fire was out, the governor-general slipped quietly away.

Motor Princess to Begin Freight Run

By RAY WORMALD
Colonist Marine Editor

A stubby little ferry that was supposed to have been "dead" 23 years ago is to start a new C.P.R. service between Victoria and Vancouver.

The Motor Princess, built at Yarrows Ltd. 29 years ago, is to carry freight between the two cities — making daily trips on night runs.

Company officials are now completing plans for the new service, and a local shipyard will handle what little refit work is required. According to present plans, she will enter the new freight service "within six or seven weeks."

A life of six years was all that was expected of the Motor Princess. She was actually built as an experimental ship.

Rain was pelting down early on the afternoon of March 31, 1923, when Mrs. Norman Yarrow crashed a champagne bottle against the ferry's bow. A small crowd had gathered at Yarrows Ltd. to witness the ceremony.

The launching was of particular interest to Capt. J. W. Trout—then manager of the C.P.R.'s B.C. Coast Steamship Service. He was a man of vision and foresight. He saw the day when ships would carry hundreds of cars to and from Sidney.

The Motor Princess was designed and built especially to prove that demand for such a car ferry service could be developed.

Originally it was intended she would have a steel hull. But Capt. Trout altered that plan. "Build her of wood . . . the ship will only be needed for six years . . . by then it will be known if such a car ferry business is possible," said Capt. Trout.

BELLINGHAM RUN

E. W. Izard, general manager at Yarrows Ltd., remembers the captain's words. It was Mr. Izard who acted for the shipyard when negotiations were being held with Capt. Troup.

The Motor Princess was placed on the run linking Sidney and Bellingham.

She has been out of service for the past two years, having been taken off the Sidney-Steveston run following a federal government ruling that passenger vessels in such service be equipped with sprinkler systems and other fire precautions. Company officials "retired" the ferry, claiming installation of the fire equipment would be too costly.

Referring to the ferry's new freight service, a company spokesman said: "This is a measure being taken to relieve the pressure of freight business in other ships operating between Victoria and Vancouver."

The ferry will be able to handle large freight-laden trucks.

Bus Briefly Buried In Interior Snowbank

CRANBROOK, B.C., Jan. 24 (CP).—Forced off the highway by a snowplow, a bus carrying the Vancouver Wheelers amateur hockey team was buried temporarily today when it nosed into a 25-foot snowbank.

The driver and 19 passengers escaped by smashing open the emergency exit near the rear of the vehicle and digging the snow away with their hands.

There were no injuries. The accident occurred 35 miles from this interior community, 300 miles east of Vancouver.

The Pacific Coast Senior Amateur Hockey League team was en route to Kimberley, B.C., for a game with Kimberley Dynamiters.

The bus was finally pulled clear of the drift and continued on its way.

Charles Neville, the driver, said he hit the snowbank after swerving to avoid the snowplow. The snowplow operator said his visibility was cut off by the thick plume of snow shot up by the vehicle.

The snowplow operator was unaware of what had happened. A motorist who witnessed the accident drove five miles down the highway to bring the plow back to the scene, where it assisted in freeing the bus.

Aboard the bus were 14 hockey players, two drivers, three hockey fans and a Vancouver sports reporter.

Wheelers played as scheduled tonight, defeating Dynamiters 4-3.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

Prairie people are as sane as most Canadians until some fool broaches the subject of low temperatures. Ask your psychiatrist. It's dangerous.

Some of my best friends are prairie refugees, and I'm willing to share citizenship with them at any season except winter. With the first frost they become insolent and more than a little unbalanced.

The merest hint that it's a cold day starts them on an angry tirade about the bitterness of the cold in their home town, Absolute Zero, Saskatchewan. Compared with good old Absolute Zero, this place is a tropical garden.

You will notice that nobody else has so far mentioned the temperature in Saskatchewan. Nobody really wants to know.

Dragging irrelevant matters into the talk is one symptom of the winter madness that strikes prairie people when they are far from home.

They also take pride in their own insensitivity to cold. When the mercury was frozen into a thick jelly, these hardy folk were tramping the lanes of old Saskatchewan clad in nothing but a thin vest and a solar topee. That's what they tell you.

Notice the tendency to make statements that have no foundation in fact.

Let me give a word of warning here. Never let prairie people see you wearing gloves or sheep-lined boots. That goads them into a fury.

They will tell you how they habitually ran barefoot through the snow, pausing at intervals to kick a frost-bitten timber wolf in the teeth, just for exercise.

* * *

Try to humor them and see how far you get. Admit that the prairie cold must be something fierce, and suggest that we are lucky to be living in the only part of Western Canada that is warm enough to be habitable. Then stand clear.

"Whaddya mean, warm here?" the prairie man snarls. "Listen, brother, I was never so cold in my life as when I came to this forsaken British Columbia."

Notice that he wants to have it both ways. An interesting case. Your prairie patient harbors two contradictory ideas in logic-tight compartments.

And he goes on to explain that the B.C. cold is the damp kind which seeps into the bones. His eyes shine with the glint of madness as he tells you that on the prairies it's warm even when it's cold, but here in B.C. it's cold even when it's warm.

That is prairie logic, a frightening thing to hear.

* * *

But perhaps the diagnosis is wrong. The reason for the prairie attitude may be physical rather than mental. After long exposure to below-zero temperatures, our friends from the plains may have developed a cold-blooded immunity like fish which stay alive in solid ice.

If that is the case, we can quit trying to understand them and demand that they try to understand us. I say right now that I'm not interested in hearing exactly how much cold and snow they get in Edmonton, Moose Jaw or Chilly Gulch, Manitoba. I've been there, and all I know is that they get too much.

Prairie denizens with ice water in their veins instead of blood had better not come yattering to me about their condition. Let them see a doctor. Maybe he could arrange to have them hired as exhibits in a clinic.

Service Hostel Idea Endorsed By Legion Men

The Victoria and District Zone Council of the Canadian Legion at a meeting yesterday endorsed the suggestion by Mayor C. L. Harrison, that there be a hostel opened for servicemen in Victoria.

A vote of thanks was extended to Lloyd McKenzie, the lawyer who recently donated his services to a veteran appearing in court, who was without funds to retain counsel.

Zone Commander Peter Barr was in the chair.

GLASGOW, Scotland (CP).—The Cunard trans-Atlantic liner Media, 13,300 tons, is being fitted with stabilizing fins in a dockyard here. The fins, already in use on several British vessels, are expected to restrict the ship's rolling and help maintain an accurate course.

Copy Victoria, Vancouver Told

Vancouver has been told to take a page from Victoria's tourist publicity book.

A New York tourist authority, H. J. DeGraff, speaking to Vancouver tourist trade officials recently, said that Vancouver needs more imagination in its tourist publicity if it expects to draw American travelers.

"Victoria's slogan, 'Follow the Birds to Victoria,' and the claim that it is a bit of old England, has captured the interest and imagination of Americans," he said.

"Nearly all of the people who ask us about B.C. are interested in Victoria," he added.

He said more American tourists than ever will visit Canada this year, despite the rise in value of the Canadian dollar.

Austrian Cabinet Gets New Members

VIENNA, Jan. 24 (Reuters).—Four new Austrian cabinet members were sworn in today to replace ministers who quit Wednesday. The government remains unchanged, since all the ministers involved are members of the Rightist Peoples Party. The party said Wednesday the resignations were made because of "serious economic problems" to be tackled soon, including forthcoming cuts in U.S. aid.

The first concrete pipe used for irrigation was installed in the United States in 1888.

Nepal Revolt Controlled; Emergency Proclaimed

NEW DELHI, India, Jan. 24 (AP). — A Red-tinged revolt against the young government of Nepal collapsed today, the Nepalese embassy announced.

Official advices from Katmandu, capital of the strategic buffer state between India and Communist-held Tibet, told this story:

The bulk of the revolting forces, who had demanded inclusion of Communists in the government, this morning surrendered the 900-room main government office building, the last of the strong-holds they seized in Katmandu Tuesday night.

Their leader, Dr. K. I. Singh, is fleeing under close pursuit.

Casualties of the 36-hour uprising were light — one rebel killed and two wounded.

King Tribhuvana proclaimed an emergency tonight, vesting the prime minister with dictatorial powers and imposing a curfew from 7 p.m. to 7 a.m.

The rebels were said to be a splinter faction in the ruling Nepali Congress Party. The revolt flared up after Singh escaped from prison.

Indian foreign office officials said the insurgents had accused the Commoner government of Prime Minister M. P. Koirala, formed two months ago, of being a puppet of the Indian government, and had demanded an all-party regime "including Communists, but excluding reactionaries."

The extent of Communist participation in the revolt still was undetermined. The best sources here said the Reds were not among the instigators of the rebellion, but supported it actively.

Plow Ends Northern Isolation

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., Jan. 24 (CP). — Canadian National Railways trains tonight moved in and out of Prince Rupert for the first time this week.

A rotary plow broke through giant snowdrifts clogging the C.N.R. line between here and Terrace, B.C., 95 miles to the east.

An eastbound passenger train left at 8 p.m. and the westbound train, which had been unable to get past Terrace, reached this Pacific coast port at 10 p.m.

Strong winds, blowing steadily for days and piling up snow on tracks, subsided late today.

Among those delayed by the drifts was F. H. Keefe of Winnipeg, general manager of the C.N.R.'s western region. He arrived aboard a snowplow.

For the second day in a row, planes were unable to operate between Vancouver and Prince Rupert because of poor visibility and icing conditions.

Milder temperatures eased the serious water shortage here, caused by residents running water to prevent taps from freezing.

Oil Refinery Projected For Interior

VANCOUVER, Jan. 24 (CP). — An oil refinery for the Interior, possibly Kamloops, has been suggested by oil men here as the next step in industrial expansion created by soon-to-start construction on an oil pipeline from Alberta.

The Kamloops Board of Trade has been lauding the advantages of that city as a refinery centre and at least one oil company is reported to be interested.

Announcement is expected soon on the starting date for construction of the $10,000,000 refinery here for B.A. Oil.

J. C. Hall, vice-president in charge of the company's operations in Western Canada, left today for a head office conference in Toronto.

MINE SHARES SOLD

Silver Miller Mines has sold 169,994 treasury shares at $1.25 under a new agreement. The funds will be used for expansion purposes, it is stated by an official of the company.

Kemano Strike Talk Set

VANCOUVER, Jan. 24 (CP). — Union officials are expected to meet here Friday with representatives of Morrison-Knudsen, contracting firm, in an effort to iron out the labor trouble that has halted tunnel work at Kemano, B.C.

Frank Carlisle, chief of the Vancouver Building Trades Council (A.F.L.), said his group met with the miners Wednesday to get their side of the story.

About 275 tunnel workers on the Aluminum Company of Canada project staged a wildcat strike last week. The men were shipped out when they rejected a 15-cent increase on the basic $1.60 an hour pay.

Though mostly members of the Independent Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers' Union, the miners were working under Building and General Laborers' Union (A.F.L.), which hold the contract for the work.

Letter on Way to Aid Amnesia Victim

REGINA, Jan. 24 (CP). — A Regina mother said today a registered letter is on its way from Brighton, England, with information on the "Betty" who claims to be her son's wife.

The son, Dennis Mitchell McDonald, is in the Saskatchewan Hospital at Weyburn suffering from loss of memory. Dennis says he remembers marrying a girl named Betty while in the army in England during the Second World War.

Mrs. Elizabeth McDonald hopes that if Betty turns out to be her son's wife she may be able to help restore his memory.

A report yesterday from Brighton said that a woman living at Lewes, Sussex, had informed deputy registrar William Soward she believes she is McDonald's wife.

Mrs. McDonald had written the Brighton registrar asking him to check wartime marriage records. She said today she expects to receive a reply within a few days.

Veterans' affairs department records show that McDonald, regimental number L-108781, was discharged from the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps in Regina in July, 1946.

He was given a clean bill of mental and physical health, although Mrs. McDonald says her son's trouble began while he was overseas. First intimation the D.V.A. had of trouble was in January, 1949, when Dennis collapsed on a Halifax street while on his way to England to see a girl named Peggy.

He had apparently promised Peggy he would return to England after his discharge. While hoping that there is a Betty, Mrs. McDonald said there is possibility her son may be confused between the name Betty and his friend Peggy.

Noted Educator Miss Jamieson Dies, Aged 83

VANCOUVER, Jan. 24 (CP). — Miss Anna Bruce Jamieson, 83, one of B.C.'s leading educationalists, died here yesterday.

Born in Leeds, Que., she came to B.C. in 1906 after obtaining her Ph.D. from the University of Manitoba.

She began her career at Dawson School in 1907 and later taught at King Edward High School, Vancouver, for 20 years. She was vice-principal on her retirement.

Her civic career began in 1927 when she was elected to the Vancouver school board. She was re-elected continuously until she retired in 1946.

From 1915 to 1942 she was a member of the U.B.C. senate and from 1936 to 1942 she was a member of the board of governors.

Surviving are two brothers, C. M. Jamieson, Saskatchewan, and F. J. Jamieson, Manitoba. A niece and nephew reside in Vancouver.

New Zealand Union Angry

Musician Barred by Canada

WELLINGTON, N.Z., Jan. 24 (CP). — The New Zealand Musicians' Union is up in arms because of one of the country's top jazz men, blind Julian Lee, has been refused a visa to enter Canada.

Lee, a brilliant performer on six instruments, also is a first-rate music arranger. He and his near-blind wife have abandoned their projected move.

A. Rive, Canadian high commissioner, said union regulations forbade Lee from joining the Canadian musicians' union or playing in that country commercially for 12 months. Rather than risk his moving to face a year of idleness, Canadian immigration authorities refused him a visa.

The Canadian union has been asked for an explanation and the question of possible retaliation will be considered at the union's conference next month.

T. E. Skinner, secretary of the New Zealand union, said "the system savors of totalitarian countries."

At Toronto an official in the union's Canadian office released recent correspondence between Mr. Murdoch and the Canadian immigration department, in which the union's stand regarding immigrants was outlined.

"Because of the critical state of employment in our profession, some three years ago it was decided by a conference which represented musicians' associations from Victoria to Halifax not to accept musicians coming from abroad until they had established residence of at least one year in the jurisdiction of the local which they wish to join."

Demara, Now Shorn of Aliases, Trying to Decide on Future

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP). — A bright young man, who never finished high school but who won acclaim as a skilled surgeon, is trying to decide what to do next.

"Being an impostor is a tough habit to break," he says.

Despite his lack of schooling, Ferdinand Waldo Demara Jr., 30, has posed successfully as a doctor of philosophy, an eminent zoologist, and has been, among other things, a college professor and Trappist monk.

But the collapse of his latest master hoax, during which he performed brilliant operations as a surgeon in the Royal Canadian Navy, has left him uncertain.

"I'm tired of aliases, or as I prefer to think of them, noms de plume," he said. "But how can I use my own name after all that's happened?"

At his parents' home in Lawrence, Mass., Demara told his story to Life magazine, which gives the account in its Jan. 28 issue, out today.

Demara used the name and credentials of Dr. Joseph C. Cyr of Grand Falls, N.B., to get his surgeon's commission, much as he had used academic records of others in his other roles.

Newspaper accounts of his spectacularly successful operations on wounded Korean soldiers led to discovery of the fraud last November, and the Canadian navy brought him home and quietly discharged him.

Demara, who concedes he "always wanted short cuts," previously passed himself off as various noted scholars, attended educational conclaves, was a deputy sheriff, American soldier and sailor and twice a hospital orderly.

As a one-time psychology professor at St. Martin's College, in Lacey, Wash., Demara said "I just kept ahead of the class. The best way to learn anything is to teach it."

His story, which Life says has "stood up" against careful checking, relates these experiences as a "doctor":

When commissioned as a surgeon-lieutenant last March, his first duty was at the sick bay in Halifax's naval hospital. By consulting books, he handled routine cases with ease and treated some psychiatric patients.

"There's no mystery about psychiatry," he said. "Anybody with common sense could practice it."

Assigned to the destroyer Cayuga, his first problem arose when the ship's skipper, Cmdr. James Plomer, needed a tooth pulled.

"I told him to wait until morning," Demara said. "That night I stayed in my cabin, reading up on dentistry, which was all new to me. In the morning, I shot the skipper's jaw full of novocain and out came the tooth; no trouble at all."

His first serious case came one day in September when a wounded South Korean soldier was brought aboard from a junk with a bullet near his heart.

"I couldn't have been nervous, even if I felt like it," Demara said. "Practically everybody on the ship was standing there, watching me."

After administering sodium pentothal as an anaesthetic, Demara worked swiftly, opening the chest with incisions above the heart and along the breastbone.

"I kept one basic principle in my mind," he said. "The less cutting you do, the less patching up you have to do afterward."

After finding the bullet within a fraction of an inch of the heart, Demara said, "I was afraid he'd hemorrhage when I took out the bullet. But he didn't. I pulled it out and slipped some gelfoam, a coagulating agent, into the wound and it closed almost immediately."

Demara sewed up the incisions, wrapped the chest tightly, gave the man an injection of 1,500,000 units of penicillin and 12 hours later the man walked off the ship.

Demara also told of performing a complex resection, or lung removal. He did this after reading accounts of such an operation on the King.

Oddities

WINNIPEG, Jan. 24 (CP). — A Winnipeg reporter was going around with a red face today, and it wasn't due to the 20-below-zero temperature.

Sent to a large hotel to interview Immigration Minister Walter Harris, the reporter went up to his room. The federal minister's wife was looking out of the window, with her back to the reporter.

Mistaking Mrs. Harris for a diminutive feminine colleague who usually covers the hotel beat, the reporter said:

"Hello, baby, what are you doing here?"

Mrs. Harris laughingly accepted apologies when the reporter stammered that the colleague also was a "tiny little thing."

MELBOURNE, Jan. 24 (Reuters). — For Eric Waterman, Melbourne motorist, today was just one of those days.

He was driving outside Melbourne when his car backfired and caught fire.

Waterman jumped out and extinguished the flames, then found his pants were on fire.

He hauled them off and threw them on the ground.

They caused a blaze which burned more than 40 acres of pasture and 10 acres of wheat.

Bolstering the Commission

APPOINTMENT of Mr. P. E. George as chairman of the public utilities commission and sole commissioner on the coal and petroleum board, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. W. A. Carrothers some months ago, is a visible attempt on the part of the provincial government to restore a measure of public confidence in those tribunals, and not before it was needed. Dr. Carrothers himself was originally brought into the provincial service from the University of British Columbia, proved immensely valuable in his advice, and in fact set up most of the initial machinery which established the public utilities commission. His passing was a blow to the service from which it did not seem to recover, while recent mistakes developed highly political tensions over its administration.

By making the appointment now the government has ended a situation which was beginning to fester. While the introduction of a new man from outside the civil service arouses interior resentments, they may be considerably less than the visible and mounting irritation which had been engendered by unwise use of executive authority in the wrong direction. Although neither a professor nor an expert in political science, Mr. George has some sturdy qualities of his own to bring to the task. His 25 years in public life in Victoria have established his integrity, fair-mindedness and democratic principles, and there is no danger whatever that his sudden elevation will be followed by any rush of ambition to the head. The appointment is timely for other reasons as well, not all of them visible on the surface.

If the public utilities commission, once a source of strength to the government, were to be restored in public confidence something had to be done. In Mr. George the government has picked a known man and one respected in this community.

A Plebiscite Is Promised

IT SEEMS as though a political hot potato of some years standing is about to be grasped boldly at last. Back on the job after what was perhaps a refreshing tour of Europe, Attorney-General Wismer has repeated his pledge of a liquor plebiscite made a year ago. This time he is even more emphatic than before, and states without quibble that it will be held at the coming election.

Mr. Wismer goes so far as to say that if necessary he will draft the wording of the plebiscite himself, although this of course would be approved by the cabinet as a whole. Here in fact is the nub of the matter and precisely what has caused the government to shy away from the subject in the past. The attorney-general's recent trip to European countries, where it is said they handle their drinking problems much more sensibly than we do here, should help, however. No doubt he took the chance to observe the various Continental systems in operation.

There are several considerations the cabinet is sure to keep in mind. The effect of a change on government liquor profits, for instance, since the government does a monopoly business in the retail sale of liquor. With an election in the offing some thought will given to the position of clubs privileged to sell liquor to members, a revenue-producing asset. From a political angle there is also the question of striking a mean between the wet and the dry votes.

Above all, however, in so far as the electorate as a whole is concerned, is the need for the plebiscite to provide enough alternative choices so that voters may express their wishes and a clear picture be gained of the kind of liquor system desired. Most people are likely to agree that present B.C. liquor laws need reform, and that the coming election affords a fine chance to bring this about.

Need for Municipal Liaison

SOME doubt exists as to the continued functioning of the inter-municipal committee formed last year. It would be a great pity and a retrogressive step if the committee were to be dissolved, for it had many useful possibilities. Until opposition to amalgamation can be overcome and Greater Victoria consolidated under metropolitan jurisdiction, there is a definite need for an inter-municipal group acting in an advisory capacity. Such a group, if kept alert and functioning as it should, could be of invaluable help in co-ordinating endeavors of mutual interest and in preventing the confusion which is apt to occur when several administrations go different ways. Greater Victoria has had some unfortunate experiences of that kind.

As Reeve Wurtele said, some of the functions of the inter-municipal committee could be taken over by the Capital Regional Planning Board; but not all. The subject of garbage disposal policy has been mentioned. The regional board could make useful recommendations, but could not carry the matter as far as could an administrative liaison group representing all councils.

The need for co-ordination of traffic regulation alone warrants the preservation of a group linking all municipalities, with the object of striving for uniformity. At present road markings on a single street change for no apparent reason from one type to another when an invisible municipal boundary is crossed. The city has put the "stop when occupied" plan into effect at school crossings, but the surrounding municipalities adhere to the old-fashioned 15-miles-an-hour zones. In what is in reality one metropolitan area, all this is confusing enough to residents, let alone visiting motorists.

Far from being allowed to languish, the inter-municipal committee should be strengthened and encouraged to explore ways in which mutually beneficial improvements could be brought about in all phases of local government.

WANTS TOM THUMB

Sir,—I am writing a biography of General Tom Thumb, the American midget whose real name was Charles S. Stratton (1838-1883) and who was associated with P. T. Barnum in the show business and toured Canada several times. I should like to have your readers send me information or material on Tom Thumb and his wife; such as personal recollections, anecdotes, books, pamphlets, old newspaper or magazine clippings, songs, playbills, letters, souvenirs, prints, photographs, etc. Both Tom Thumb and Barnum were my distant cousins.

DOMINION OF CANADA

Sir,—Since you published my letter concerning the word "dominion," I have been buffeted by an editorial and two indignant correspondents. A number of extraneous subjects have been brought under discussion, and I would deem it a privilege if you would permit me to defend my stand.

To you and to that excellent lady at East Sooke, I concede that usage, and usage alone, has given the word "dominion" any respect it now enjoys. It replaced "kingdom" in the B.N.A. Act to prevent giving offense to the United States. If the lady reads Creighton's "Dominion of the North," she will find that Canadian interests were persistently and flagrantly sacrificed on the altar of British-American friendship: territory which we occupied and held was simply given away to the Americans, first after the Civil War of 1776 and the war of 1812, and later during the Oregon and San Juan boundary disputes, and last but not least, the Alaska boundary dispute of 1903. The only trouble with Representative Sheehan is that he is living in the wrong century.

But when it comes to the "bigness" of the British government, may I quote from the editor of The Daily British Colonist, who wrote on April 29, 1867, "On all sides it is agreed that Great Britain has treated her Pacific colony with shameful, inexcusable neglect . . ." The ". . . extraordinary indifference and apathy . . ." of the Home Government aroused his ire, even though time appears to have mellowed your own point of view.

On the matter of kingdom vs. republic, it must be apparent to all thinking Canadians that we are really, in fact if not in name, very close to a republican form of government. An elected governor-general would complete the step. The warm personal regard existing in England between monarch and subject, King and prime minister, cannot be genuinely duplicated in Canada between the leader of the government and a five-year figurehead who is not even a Canadian citizen. The present writer would be happy to see one of the King's heirs living permanently in Canada, as a Canadian citizen, his children learning and accepting the Canadian way of life. But unless a member of the House of Windsor can be spared from England, the present ad hoc arrangement is bound to change. The fundamental issue is one of basic loyalty. Where Canadian interests clash with those of the United Kingdom, I contend that Canada must come first. Were it not so, our people, who are of such widely differing racial origin, would owe allegiance to Soviet Russia, Communist China, and all the nations of the globe.

To the correspondent at Shawnigan Lake I would say only this: I have tried to back my remarks with hard, well-substantiated fact, without finding it necessary to appeal either to the emotions of the reader (when he linked the word "dominion" with loyalty to the King, two quite unrelated subjects), or to racial prejudice (his reference to Canadians of French origin).

COALESCED WITH WHOM?

Sir,—How can Premier Johnson reconcile the dissolution of the Coalition by still taking three Coalitionists into his cabinet?

As a matter of protocol Mr. Johnson must know that all power has evaporated with the dissolution, other than all resigning and going to the province for the people to decide what form of government they wish to serve them.

The only legal party now existing in government is the C.C.F.; they were their following's choice.

The people's and the province's welfare must take precedence to a political juggling for place.

The premier was not elected as a Liberal, but a now vanquished Coalitionist.

Thinking Aloud

". . . of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

MONEY goes to the head, in the abstract as well as the personal. Such vast sums are budgeted nowadays, vide Mr. Truman's $85,000,000,000 charge to the United States Congress the other day, that the mind reels in a daze. That much money in one sum is beyond our power to grasp.

It is better understood if we break it down and relate it to some humdrum computation. One of our chaps has calculated that if some supreme treasurer had paid out about $5 per hour, night and day without stopping, ever since the first hour of the year 1 A.D.—the U.S. budget figure of 1952 would just have been reached today.

Phew!

Offhand I had assumed that Canadians talked very much alike, meaning that by comparison with the speech differences so marked in Britain and other European countries they were accentless. Across the Atlantic, as you know, every score of miles introduces a new dialect or twist of tongue so that the man from Dundee scarcely speaks the same language as the man from Somerset.

But Canadians have their own variations, too. An Eastern editor claims he can spot a Torontonian as soon as he opens his mouth, or a man from Ottawa, which must be splitting a fine phonetic hair. Another Ontario paper describes Premier Frost as having "a central Ontario rural accent". And it seems that all Canadian accents are about to be plotted on a linguistic map which is currently engaging the attention of some North American scholars.

What kind of accent will be credited to Victoria? There's a puzzler for them.

The entry of the U.S.S.R. into the Olympic Games is intriguing—if when the games take place it doesn't become boring. Certainly if the Russians are as good as athletics as they are at polemics they should give other nations a run for their money.

And I have a notion they will. I don't think the Politboro would have entered the Olympics if they didn't think they had some potential winners up their collective sleeve.

Assuming Viscount Bracken to be right, there is a pat on the back coming to Prime Minister St. Laurent for the selection of Vincent Massey as the first Canadian to occupy Rideau Hall. Long ago Mr. Massey was a Liberal cabinet minister but merit rather than political affiliation seems to have been the test of his selection. It would be a pity if ever the vice-regal office is regarded only as a patronage plum.

Incidentally, it was a queer leak that came all the way from Johannesburg. The noble lord might have had the grace to leave the disclosure to the places from which protocol dictates it should come—Buckingham Palace and Ottawa. Seemingly the former information minister of Churchill's wartime cabinet, now a private but privileged person, cannot keep a secret.

The other day I came across an item rich enough to lift yachting eyebrows at the Cadboro Bay clubhouse. It had to do with the Clyde Fortnight last summer, where the Dragon boat of Danish champion Thorkil Warrer swept the board, winning eight first flags and three fourths, and taking home to Denmark all five silver cups in this class.

This came about, says one yachting critic, because "the victorious combination was there—a skilful skipper sailing a good boat tuned to racing pitch, excellent sails, and an efficient crew." The piece de resistance, however, lies in the sails, which were made—hold your breath—in little landlocked Switzerland. Shades of the great Danish Vikings!

International Commentary . . .

Security of Southeast Asia

By W. N. EWER, From London

THE communique issued at the end of the Churchill-Truman talks in Washington referred to the need for "specific measures to strengthen the security of Southeast Asia". A few days later, Mr. Eden, speaking at Columbia University, was more explicit: "Intervention by force by Chinese Communists, even if they were called volunteers—would create a situation no less menacing than that which the United Nations met and faced in Korea. In such an event, the United Nations, I trust, would be equally firm to resist it."

In Washington, a three-power conference of American, British and French high-ranking officers is, at the request of the French government, examining the military problems of the defense of the area against any outside attack.

So, and to many people somewhat suddenly, Southeast Asia, and in particular Indo-China, has come into the forefront as a centre of anxiety, as an area whose security is becoming a matter of grave and immediate concern. Why should this be so?

The reason for the anxiety is that the idea of Chinese intervention in support of Ho Chi Minh and his Communist forces in Vietnam might now be seriously considered in Moscow and Peking.

* * *

The war in Vietnam has now been going on for just over five years. And it has been indecisive.

The French forces have not been able to suppress the Communist "rebellion" which has been receiving material aid from across the Chinese frontier. On the other hand, Ho Chi Minh's forces, though able to hold their ground on the whole, have not been able to achieve their real objectives. Vietnam is very far from becoming, as Moscow hoped when the war was launched, a Communist-controlled country. And, slowly but perhaps decisively the tide has, during the last six months, been turning against the Communists. From the point of view of both Moscow and Peking, it would look as if the time were approaching when either the whole venture must be—like the Greek civil war—written off as a failure, or a new effort must be made. Ho Chi Minh, without some new assistance, is clearly not going to be able to "liberate" Vietnam. And the new assistance that can be given is the assistance of Chinese troops or Chinese "volunteers".

* * *

Peking could have another motive for intervention. Mao Tse Tung and his colleagues are not only Communists; they are also ardent Chinese nationalists. They do not for a moment forget that a large part of Vietnam was once part of the Chinese empire. They are thinking in terms of a Chinese overlordship of all Southeast Asia. The temptation is a strong one if the risks did not seem too great.

And the end of the war in Korea, which is now in the region of possibility, would provide the military opportunity, since it would release and leave unemployed a large and war-trained Chinese force. Already there are reports, though they are difficult to check, of the concentration near the Vietnam border of quite considerable Chinese forces, of the making of new strategic roads toward the frontier, of the construction of airfields.

Lastly there is the always important evidence of propaganda. For some time past both the Russian and Chinese newspapers and radio have been publishing wild and invented stories of American preparations for an invasion of southern China from Vietnam, Siam and Burma. Pravda, for example, only a few days ago was asserting that the American fleet is "transferring gangs of Chiang Kai Shek soldiers into Siam, Burma and Vietnam." The presence in north Burma — very embarrassing to the Burmese government — of a few thousand Chinese Nationalist troops who sought refuge across the frontier is being magnified into the presence of a strong and menacing army, equipped by the Americans and poised ready for an invasion of Yunnan.

* * *

It is all fantastic. But Mr. Vishinsky has given it official Soviet sanction. In the U.N. Assembly on January 3 he accused the U.S.A. of "preparing large-scale military operations on the borders of the Chinese Peoples' Republic through the military occupation of certain states"; and of "preparations for new aggressive acts against the republic". There is an unpleasantly familiar ring about such accusations by totalitarian states.

Taken in conjunction, all these symptoms provide a warning that it would be foolish for the free world to ignore. There is no disposition in London to be unduly alarmist. There is no expectation that we shall wake up one morning to learn that the Chinese are over the border and heading for Hanoi. What seems likely is that the Chinese and their Soviet allies are conducting a sort of political reconnaissance; that they are testing the ground, trying to discover whether or not an adventure in Southeast Asia could be undertaken without undue risk. If Chinese "volunteers" came in great strength to the aid of Ho Chi Minh, would France yield to superior force, would the U.S.A. and the British Commonwealth stand protestingly aside while Mao's troops marched to the Gulf of Siam?

Past experience makes it likely enough that if Moscow and Peking came to the conclusion that the risks were not too great, the adventure would be undertaken; that the Chinese would move as soon as they can be ready; but that if the risks are patently great, it will be abandoned.

That is why Mr. Eden issued his plain warning; and that is why the military conversations in Washington are making it clear that the warning is not simply a gesture. Together they may well save the peace of Southeast Asia (and therefore of the world). Certainly that and nothing else is their intention.

Using Our Resources

(From The Windsor Star)

CONSERVATIVE Leader George A. Drew will have public support for his campaign to have the natural resources of Canada used as far as possible for the benefit of Canadians. He has special reference to our abundant iron ore and the advisability of manufacturing from it all the steel we need in Canada, or otherwise using the ore for processing here.

"It is not only employment, but employment at a high wage level which will keep the most ambitious of our young people in Canada," he says. He was commenting on the fact that for every six immigrants in the past decade we have had five emigrants.

Mr. Drew has spotted the real reason for the wastage of our population by so many going across the border to the United States. Mostly they aren't going in search of a better climate, more favorable taxes, or because they prefer the Stars and Stripes to the Canadian Red Ensign. They are going because they think they see better, economic opportunities which, being translated, mean higher salaries or wages.

Export of natural resources which could be processed in Canada, or of dividends from the development of our resources, literally means export of jobs and ability to pay higher wages in Canada. There always will be an exodus of Canadians to the United States until we can bring our salaries and wages up to those which prevail, for similar work, in the United States. We can only do so by making maximum use of our own resources, and by developing them, insofar as possible, with our own money.

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

THERE is a higgledy-piggledy quality to many American cities such as Chicago, Albany, St. Louis, that always shocks a Canadian who has been brought up on the pretty pictures of such widely publicized spots as downtown New York, the statelier regions of Washington, or the skyline, with bridges, of San Francisco. Never an issue of the widely-circulated United States pictorial magazines but contains almost sublime aspects of the American scene, whether it be of some grandiose industrial enterprise down around Natchez and the deep south, or a spectrally beautiful skyscraper in Detroit or Seattle.

But what shocks the daylights out of the homely Canadian, uninitiated into the great American myth, is that these fantastically beautiful and modern buildings stick up, like terribly sore thumbs, from the midst of the dowdiest, most ramshackle surroundings imagineable. Those vast industrial plants in the south, streamlined, modern, splendid, are set amongst the most absurd little shanties, hovels and shacks to be seen anywhere, including our own Canadian backwoods.

When I first visited Italy and looked for all the lovely things I had seen in the travel books, the ancient buildings, the dreamlike vistas, it took me some time to realize that to obtain those classic pictures, the photographers had had to engage in some strange gymnastics to get into the positions that excluded all the squalor and ugliness that surrounds what little remains of beauty there.

The more a Canadian travels, the more content he grows with his own country. It may be our climate that deters us from the spectacular. What we would like to create in summer, we recollect, has to survive the winter. What we might dream of building in winter becomes a little absurd when we remember the summer. Our climate being extreme, except in the beautific Pacific, we are inclined to avoid extremes. We are building a good, slow, solid, durable fabric.

Looking Back

Through Colonist Files

25 YEARS AGO—On the basis of $3,000 a day, $7,000 was the highest bid received by the city council yesterday from three different racing organizations, when tenders were opened for this year's concession at the Willows race track.

50 YEARS AGO—British Columbia's output of minerals last year was valued at $20,713,501, an increase of $4,378,750 over the previous year. California's output last year was estimated at $34,000,000.

85 YEARS AGO — A rat-killing match between two terrier dogs was arranged last night at Eden & Boland's saloon on Langley Street, and attracted a large number of spectators. Large wagers changed hands.

Views of Services Hard on Victoria

By BRIAN LOUGHNAN

Victoria is only a fair-weather friend to men in uniform, servicemen on city streets told The Daily Colonist last night.

Most of them expressed enthusiasm for a service hostel in Victoria and many offered suggestions for its operation and maintenance.

"This is a good town in summer, a sailor said, but in winter it falls flat."

Victoria people found little favor in most servicemen's eyes. "The local population won't mix—it's too hard to break in socially," one said.

Servicemen who had visited Victoria when Prince Robert House was in operation were unanimous in the opinion that it was too small and did not offer enough variety or adequate facilities.

Several servicemen suggested that a club for men in uniform only would be welcomed, if it were run on a membership dues basis like any of the men's clubs in the city.

BUT NO POLICE

"But no service police should be allowed in the club," an army corporal said, and naval men agreed.

"The Seagull Club in Halifax was ruined that way," said one. "They policed the place with shore patrols. It was just like being back on board ship."

Servicemen want more than just a place to sit, they said. If they were given a chance they would be pleased to provide variety shows and run entertainments themselves.

"You ought to see the variety shows we had in Cornwallis," a naval petty officer said. "Some of them were 2½ hours long and they were tops."

An air force veteran of the Second World War suggested that service clubs in Victoria should get together to provide a hostel for servicemen. "They represent the businessmen of the city, and I certainly think they should get behind this deal," he said. "After all, we're doing a job, too, and a pretty good one for all concerned."

"The trouble is," he added, "[illegible]"

Most servicemen complained that there was "just nothing to do in Victoria—no reason to get off the streets."

UNIFORMS UNPOPULAR

Uniforms are unpopular at local public dances, they claimed, and clubs "won't let us in."

Almost every city in Canada was mentioned as being friendlier to men in uniform than Victoria.

"Calgary is wonderful. The people are really friendly there," they agreed, and even Halifax—traditionally scorned by sailors—got the nod over Victoria from navy men.

Movies and beer parlors are the main and almost sole attraction to servicemen entering the city—with one big exception, the Y.M.C.A.

The "Y" provides a "servicemen only" dance every Monday, "at which we could entertain about 100 more men," according to Robert Morrison, program director. The "Y" has also offered movies on Sundays, and gives servicemen use of all facilities for $1 a month membership fees.

Fond memories of hostels and canteens in war years were recalled by many servicemen. "Sally Ann," Salvation Army canteens—and the 'Y' hostels were really wonderful," said one. "Of course, in those days people cared about the servicemen, and they were friendly, even in Victoria."

Grain Rates Draw Blast

The people of Canada are being forced to face increased freight rates because of the artificially low rail rates for grain movement in Western Canada, according to D. S. Thomson of Winnipeg, vice-president of the C.P.R. prairie region.

In Edmonton [illegible] that owing to the Crow's Nest Pass agreement of 1897, 36 per cent of the total traffic handled yielded only one-half per cent of the total revenue.

He said he could not call sound a policy which called for fixing freight rates on a third of the traffic volume in Western Canada at the level of rates which prevailed in 1899.

Transmitter Near Island To Be World's Mightiest

Victoria shortwave listeners will be on the border of the world's most powerful flow of propaganda to Communist Asia.

A new $7,000,000 short-wave transmitter for the Voice of America will be built at the base of Dungeness Hook, about 12 miles east of Port Angeles, the U.S. State Department said yesterday.

To be the world's most powerful transmitter, Victoria broadcast technicians say, it would have to exceed 250,000-watt shortwave stations used in Europe, and possibly some in Russia even more potent.

Local radio men doubt if the new transmitter, when built, will affect standard broadcast reception on the Island, but will most certainly afford pleasant anti-Marxist listening on the shortwave band.

Active Stocks Market Guide

The most active stocks on Canadian exchanges tended to move lower yesterday, but only one of Wall Street's busiest ten finished on the debit side. Of the others the top five moved upwards and two others were unchanged. Anglo-Newfoundland Development, International Pete and Massey-Harris were the Canadian industrials to move ahead under active trading.

Busiest oil was Scurry which dropped 30 cents with a day's range of 45 cents.

ARGUS ASSETS HIGHER

Indicated asset value of the common stock of Argus Corporation Limited on Jan. 21 was $24.63 per share, compared with $23.44 a share at Nov. 30, 1951, and with $13.73 per share at Nov. 30, 1950, stated M. W. McCutcheon, vice-president and managing director, at the annual meeting.

Western Oils Recover Some Losses

TORONTO, Jan. 24 (CP).—Western oils fought back slowly to recover more than half of their early profit-taking losses. Industrials, however, slipped steadily as investors provided only sporadic support.

Base metals and golds also opened irregularly and made little headway as the session progressed.

Miscellaneous issues posted a wide list of fractional advances to form industrials' strongest section. Manufacturing companies and constructions drew firm support but papers, utilities, agricultures and liquors weakened.

Western oil losses ranged from pennies to about 25 cents. Calgary and Edmonton, Calnorth, Central Explorers, Federated Petroleum, North Canadian, Scurry and United Oil slipped. Canada Southern Oil, Federated Petroleum and Security Free checked the decline with moderate gains.

Base metals were mixed. Anacon Lead, Chromium, Consolidated Smelters, Hudson Bay, Noranda and United Keno Hill showed strength.

In senior golds Dome, Giant Yellowknife, Lake Shore, Wright-Hargreaves and Bulolo eased. Junior producers showed strength.

Vancouver Eases

VANCOUVER, Jan. 25.—Prices were marked lower in all sections although the oil average came through the day with a slight gain.

Among the oils Britalta at 5.00, C. and E. at 17¾, Canadian Atlantic at 6.35, Pacific at 10¾ and Central Leduc at 3.00, were all 10 cents or more lower. Anglo-Canadian was an exception, gaining 5 cents at 9.35.

Western Uranium gained 5 cents at 3.20 among mines, while Silbak Premier was .66, up 3 cents, and Kootenay Base Metals was 30, up 1 cent. International Coal lost 2 cents at .95 and Estella 5 cents at 2.35.

Canadian Western Lumber declined ⅛ at 10⅝ and Powell River was off a quarter at 28¾.

Cements Lower

MONTREAL, Jan. 24 (CP).—Stock prices turned lower today in an extension of Wednesday's late profit-taking.

A good section of the list traded lower from the opening. Only the odd issue ranged to about one point.

Steels eased fractions. Senior oils and papers weakened at the close. Utilities and beverages were off a trifle.

Senior metals and miscellaneous industrials were mixed. Carriers edged upward, while banks closed unchanged.

Consolidated Smelters advanced one point to 197½ for the only major gain.

Canada Cement was off two points at 73½, after a 1½-point drop yesterday. International Paper fell 1¼ points to 48½ and McColl-Frontenac lost 1¼ at 43½.

Mines dragged through their fourth consecutive session, showing a balance of penny gains and losses. Western oils weakened in afternoon trading. New Pacalta and Calvan Consolidated were among losers.

U.S. Oils Popular

NEW YORK, Jan. 24 (AP).—Oil stocks pushed ahead fractions to better than a point during late trading today in a stock market that generally was quiet and showed a fairly even mixture of gains and losses.

Copper shares and Radio-TV stocks lost some of their popularity as the late demand for oil increased.

The net result statistically was: The Associated Press average of 60 stocks stood at $101.70, unchanged from Wednesday's figure.

There were 433 advances and 402 declines among the 1,161 issues traded.

London Anxious

LONDON, Jan. 24 (Reuters).—Sellers were active in the stock exchange today.

Prices sagged as operators took advantage of the facilities to deal for the new trading period, beginning next Wednesday, which will include a statement from the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Most first-grade industrials showed declines ranging from a few pence to one shilling and three pence.

Initial falls in gilt-edged also encouraged small support, resulting in partial recoveries. Oils and foreign bonds closed dull.

In the mining group, coppers came on offer. South African golds were depressed by sales.

LONDON, Jan. 24 (AP).—Stock closings: Babcock & Wilcox 47s; Boots Pure Drug, 21s; Canadian Pacific $72; Central Mining £1 15-16; Consolidated Gold Fields 48s 1½d; Courtaulds 41s; Hudson's Bay Co., 180s 4½d; Imperial Chemical, 43s; Imperial Tobacco, 68s 3d; Metal Box, 49s 3d; Mexican Eagle, 23s 1½d; Rand Mines, 122s 6d.

Bonds: British 2½ per cent Consols, £61¾; British 3½ per cent War Loans, £80¾; British Fundings 4's, 1960-1990, £98⅞.

DRILLING CONTINUES

The Leduc Socony Chancellor No. 1 well which discovered natural gas in the Sunburst section is drilling down in search of a second porous zone which is hoped for 70 feet below the 6,189-foot level where salt water was found after six feet had given evidence of oil and good porosity.

The well is being drilled and financed by Leduc Consolidated, Mill City, Mercury Oil, Royal Canadian and High Crest Oils.

Canada Declared Best Investment

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

For the person who wants to invest money there's no place in the world offering better opportunities today than Canada. That's the view of Fred H. Denison, an executive of one of the biggest investment businesses in the U.S., who paid a visit to Victoria yesterday.

"Just because U.S. mutual trusts and individual corporation stocks give a higher yield than [illegible] many are inclined to believe it is better to invest in the U.S.," said Mr. Denison, who is the Pacific Coast manager of Calvin Bullock Ltd.

"At first sight the U.S. mutuals may look more attractive with their yields of about 6 per cent, while Canadians are paying only slightly over 4 per cent," he went on.

"Closer investigation will prove this is not the case."

From his gross 6 per cent in U.S. trusts, the investor has to make a 15 per cent income tax deduction. He will also find that much of the dividend will be subject to capital gains tax as trusts realize profits on sale of portfolio securities.

For example, one U.S. mutual fund showed in its 1951 report that $1.15 of its annual dividend of $2.35 was derived from profits from sales of securities.

As the U.S. capital gains tax mulcts 26 per cent of gains established over a period longer than six months, and 50 per cent for gains under that period, it will be seen that U.S. dividends are subject to substantial paring before the net emerges.

With Canadian trusts the situation is different. Capital gains tax does not exist and there is a 10 per cent allowance in investment income from Canadian companies.

As Mr. Denison's firm is responsible for Mutual Trust Funds on both sides of the border, we must regard his views as being unbiased in this connection.

BOOSTER FOR CANADA

But the Calvin Bullock man goes further. Of Canadian investments generally, he says:

"Your long-range opportunities are better than ours. In terms of plain everyday national growth all the advantages are on your side."

Again, "You are getting most of the new venture capital because the capital gains tax is chasing it out of the United States."

The last obstacle to U.S. interest in Canadian affairs was removed when the Canadian dollar was freed, in Mr. Denison's opinion, and he forecasts that once the general U.S. public gets to know of the situation up north and the tremendous growth possibilities of Canadian industries and resources, there will be more and more U.S. capital coming north.

He sees Canada as a frontier country that is fast developing a self-sufficiency in oil and iron to go along with the other vital commodities of which an excess of normal domestic requirements is already reached.

As an optimist about Canada, Mr. Denison, naturally thinks that the Canadian dollar will continue to hold its own. "I expect to see it fluctuating around par for some time," he said.

DIVIDEND STOPPED

The Davis Leather Co. Ltd., of Newmarket, Ont., announced yesterday it would omit its usual quarterly March dividend on its B or common stock. This stock has been paying 70 cents a year regularly since 1945.

No explanation was offered in the official statement, although the decision was not unexpected.

Last November J. A. Gairdner, president, said, "The company has been facing a very poor market for some time." He forecast that there would be a fairly substantial operating loss in 1951.

Record Broken

MONTREAL, Jan. 24 (CP).—E. R. Thom, manager of the pulp sales, Howard Smith Paper Mills Ltd., Montreal, said Canadian groundwood pulp production of 5,134,000 tons in 1951 exceeded all previous records.

Mr. Thom, who is also chairman of the mechanical pulp section of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, told the association's annual meeting here that last year was the fifth consecutive year that groundwood mills in Canada had broken all production records. The 1951 increase was about 5.4 per cent above the record year of 1950.

Cominco Leads Hunt For Copper in B.C.

Activity by Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. at their copper property at Jordan River on Vancouver Island, and at their various other copper properties on the B.C. mainland is part of a vast search for copper in this province.

Officials of the B.C. and Yukon Chamber of Mines in Vancouver state that the activity in copper is "terrific."

Reported in the search are the leading U.S. and Canadian copper companies including Kennecott Copper, Anaconda, American Smelting and Refining, Newmont Mining, Noranda Mines.

Granby Consolidated, which operates at Copper Mountain, is also exploring. Britannia Mine on Howe Sound, now producing more zinc than copper, has stepped up development and exploration work.

Body Recovery Forbidden, Says Seaman

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C., Jan. 24 (CP).—A crew member of a dragger contended today that officials of Northwest Airlines at first refused to allow fishermen to recover the bodies of victims of Saturday's plane crash at Sandspit, B.C. Of the 43 persons aboard, 36 died and seven were rescued.

(At Seattle, Northwest Airlines officials denied the report but said it was possible some other authority might have stopped the fishermen).

Monty McIntyre, crew member of the dragger Carolina Maria, said the bodies of at least three of the victims could be seen 10 feet under the water off Sandspit, where the Northwest Airlines plane crashed.

McIntyre said his boat arrived at the scene a few hours after the crash and it would have been easy to recover some of the bodies with nets but that airline officials denied permission to drag for them. He said he could offer no explanation for the refusal.

Twelve bodies have so far been recovered. Search for the remaining 24 is continuing.

The 39-year-old widow of a Vancouver electrical contractor and her 18-year-old son have been awarded $350,000 on a Supreme Court order upsetting a will which disposed of a $760,000 estate. The will had left the widow $150 a month until she should remarry, and left nothing to the son.

Ballot of Stereotypers Will Decide On Award by Conciliation Board

More than 60 stereotypers in Victoria and Vancouver will vote today or tomorrow on a conciliation board majority award of a 32-cent-hourly wage increase.

The wage dispute mediated by the three-man board actually involves 13 members of the A.F.L.-T.L.C. International Stereotypers' Union, Local 88, and Victoria Press Ltd., but Vancouver members, numbering 54, must also vote on the award.

The Victoria stereotypers demanded a 37-cent-hourly wage increase, to bring their pay scale up to $2.25 hourly and on a par with the Vancouver scale.

Col. R. B. Longridge, board chairman, and H. W. Davey, employer nominee, reported they could find no sufficient reason for pay rates in the two cities to be the same.

They said rates of pay for tradesmen varied from 10 to 30 cents per hour in most cases, in favor of Vancouver workmen.

SAME LOCAL

M. S. Lawson, union representative on the board, said Vancouver scales had been accepted in previous years, and, as stereotypers in the two cities are members of the same local, Vancouver members would be unwilling to work here at a lower rate of pay.

Higher cost of living in Victoria was also advanced as a reason for higher pay.

Local president Edward Greer said in Vancouver yesterday that members there would probably vote on the award Saturday, and Victoria men today. The vote result will be announced from Vancouver, he said.

A three-quarter majority vote is required for acceptance, he said.

If it is rejected, the local would notify the international office and the B.C. Labor Relations Board that a strike vote will be taken.

Victoria Press Ltd. announced before conciliation it would accept whatever the board ruled, and has officially notified the Labor Relations Board of its acceptance now.

Previous offer before conciliation was 27 cents an hour, plus cost-of-living bonus reviewed every six months. The raise would be retroactive to Oct. 1, 1951.

Winch Raps Liquor Vote

VANCOUVER, Jan. 24 (CP)—C.C.F. leader Harold Winch charged today the proposed liquor plebiscite is the "easy way out", and avoids the government's real responsibility.

A plebiscite on the question was promised Wednesday by Attorney-General Gordon Wismer, who said the government was committed to taking the question to the people.

Mr. Winch said, "the government should have the courage to go ahead and clean up its own mess. By asking for a plebiscite they are taking the back way out of a ticklish problem."

He said, however, the plebiscite would be "better than nothing."

College Choir Scores Hit With Concert

The Midland College Choir, under the leadership of their director James S. Vail, sang to a large attentive audience last night at the Metropolitan United Church.

The choir, made up of 55 young men and women from Midland College, Freemont, Nebraska, is on a tour that will take them to 26 Canadian and American cities.

Two works by F. M. Christiansen, "From Grief to Glory" and "Built on a Rock," were well received by the audience.

Music of Bach, Brahms, Tschaikowsky and Grieg were also included on the program.

Last night's concert was under the auspices of the Grace Lutheran Church.

Australia Powerless To Ban Red Carnival

CANBERRA, Jan. 24 (Reuters)—Australia would like to ban a Communist-sponsored youth carnival, to be held in Sydney during the visit of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh next month, but is powerless to do so. There were plenty of happy youngsters at Queen Alexandra Solarium yesterday when five members of Victoria Cougars visited Mill Bay hospital under auspices of Solarium Junior League. One of happiest youngsters was Richard, who received Cougar sweater bearing coach Roger Leger's famed No. 2 and hockey stick. Richard is shown here with, left to right: Reg Abbott, Bob Frampton, Fiori Goegan, Andy Hebenton and Ed Dorohoy.

Stampeders to Stick With W.I.F.U. Despite Clash Over Vancouver Entry

CALGARY, Jan. 24 (CP)—The familiar red and white uniforms of the Calgary Stampeders will be back on the western gridiron this fall despite the fact officials of the Calgary club are slightly peeved with the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

C. E. (Cec) Chesher, president of the Calgary Stampeder Football Club, made this clear tonight following a lengthy meeting of the working directors and board of governors.

The meeting was closed to the press and radio but Chesher made the following announcement when it ended:

"The directors and governors of the Calgary Stampeder Football Club unanimously passed a motion re-affirming the stand taken by the Calgary delegates at the annual meeting of the W.I.F.U. However, the Calgary club intends to exercise its franchise and play football in 1952."

Chesher explained that the general feeling of the Stampeder officials was that Calgarians wanted football and that team officials wanted it, too.

"We were unable to beat them in the committee room," Chesher said, "but we have every intention of showing them on the field."

The meeting was called to discuss Calgary's position after Stampeder delegates had stalked from the recent W.I.F.U. meeting in Regina when the conference had voted down Vancouver's application for a franchise in the western circuit.

Calgary delegates had supported the proposed Vancouver entry and termed the action of the W.I.F.U. a "breach of moral and legal obligations."

They told the meeting they would withdraw from any further discussion and would not make their position known until they held a meeting of their directors and board of governors.

At no time did Calgary grid officials consider giving up their franchise in the W.I.F.U.

There was some talk of a circuit embracing Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver, but that fell through when Edmonton announced its intention of remaining in the W.I.F.U. no matter what course was taken by Calgary and Vancouver gridmen.

Rugby Stopped By Weather

Unless there is a drastic change in the weather there will be no rugby games this week-end, Dave Smith, publicity man for the Victoria Rugby Union, reported last night.

Smith said he had been notified by W. H. Warren, parks commissioner, that Macdonald Park was "out of the question." It is also doubtful that the snow which is now covering Windsor Park would be gone by tomorrow.

At present no games have been scheduled for tomorrow.

Queens Park Makes Bid For Hotspurs

NEW WESTMINSTER, Jan. 24 (CP).—The Royal City will ask the B.C. Soccer Commission to schedule a Tottenham Hotspurs soccer game at its grassed Queens Park.

Rick Foote, chairman of the park board, is awaiting return of John Richardson, soccer commission secretary, from his vacation to make an attractive offer.

"We are prepared to give the soccer people 80 per cent of the gate and keep only 20 per cent for ourselves," said Foote.

"Out of our 20 per cent we are prepared to look after the Hotspurs for the entire day," he added.

The park has covered seating capacity for 7,500.

Dates for the visiting English League first division club have not yet been arranged by the Dominion Football Association. In the past, touring clubs play a game in Vancouver, move to Victoria and return for another game in Vancouver.

Chicago	12	28	4	104	146	28

Next games, tomorrow: Boston at Montreal, New York at Toronto; Chicago at Detroit.

Detroit Red Wings and Toronto Maple Leafs played to a 2-2 tie Thursday night to remain all even after 10 National Hockey League games in their season series.

In the circuit's other game, Montreal Canadiens picked up a point on the second-place Leafs when they defeated the cellar-occupying Chicago Black Hawks 4-1.

Detroit and Toronto, bitter and evenly-matched rivals, each has won three times, with four games tied. Each has scored a total of 22 goals.

RECORD CROWD

In a bid to assume an edge, Toronto twice took the lead in the clash in Detroit before 15,102 fans, believed to be a record hockey attendance in Detroit for a week night.

Harry Watson scored the only first period goal by sniping home a flashy 20-footer.

Detroit tied it at 1-1 in the rough middle stanza, which was marked by simultaneous fights between Ted Kennedy and Marty Pavelich, and Metro Prystai and Tod Sloan.

The Leafs were one man short when Ted Lindsay bounced a hard shot off goalie Al Rollins' skate for the tally.

QUICK RETALIATION

Each scored again within a minute of the final period. Toronto again went ahead on Max Bentley's sharp angle short shot which got past Terry Sawchuk.

Detroit's production line teamed for the tying tally on a picture play, Gordie Howe passed behind the net to Lindsay, whose passout was swiftly picked up by Sid Abel for the goal at 10.31.

Referee Red Storey had his only trouble in the middle frame when a gang fight broke out after Pavelich and Kennedy tangled. They drew majors for their effort, Prystai and Sloan minors while all others escaped penalties.

DAVIS STARRY

Lorne Davis, ex-Pacific Coast and American Hockey League player, made a starry debut with Montreal Canadiens, scoring one goal and setting up another before a sparse Chicago crowd of 4,114.

Gerry McNeil played a spectacular game in goal for the Habitants and had a shutout until 6.39 of the third period when Bill Mosienko got the 201st goal of his N.H.L. career. McNeill made 36 saves, 28 of them in the first two stanzas. Harry Lumley of the Hawks had a total of 32 saves.

Sedgman Defeats Rose; Aussie Tandem Pressed

ADELAIDE, Australia, Jan. 25 (Friday) (AP).—Frank Sedgman, Australia's top tennis player, reached the final of the Australian national championships today, beating his countryman, Mervyn Rose, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2, in their semi-final match.

Dick Savitt, defending champion from the United States, was pitted against Australia's Ken McGregor in the other semi-final.

Savitt and Ham Richardson, the American pick-up doubles pair, gave world champions Sedgman and McGregor the scare of their lives Thursday before darkness interrupted their semi-final match with the score standing at two sets apiece.

MAJOR UPSET

They will play off the deciding set after the Savitt-McGregor singles match today. A victory for Savitt and his youthful partner would provide a major doubles upset.

Sedgman and McGregor, who hold all the world's major tandem titles, won the first set of today's sizzler, 6-3. But then the Americans caught fire and ripped off the next two sets 6-3 and 6-4. The Australians rallied after the rest period to take the fourth set at 6-3.

The day's matches had begun in 97-degree heat, but toward the end of the fourth set a strong wind sprang up and storm clouds blotted out most of the light.

The eventual winners of the surprising contest will face Mervyn Rose and Don Candy in the final round of doubles on Saturday. Rose and Candy followed form in eliminating veterans Adrian Quist and Geoff Brown yesterday, 9-7, 6-2, 6-1.

McMorrans' Rally Defeats Merchants

A last-half rally enabled McMorran's to defeat Mount Tolmie Merchants, 38-31, in the first game of the two-game total-point series for the Saanich and Suburban Basketball League's intermediate "B" boys' championship, last night.

Mount Tolmie led 24-21 at half time.

Second game will be played at the Lake Hill Community Hall at 8 p.m. Monday.

In the preliminary exhibition girls' game, C. & C. Taxi of the Victoria league defeated McMorran's, 36-12.

Hoop Schedule Changed For Tomorrow

There has been a change in tomorrow night's basketball program at Victoria High School. There will be three games played instead of two, as originally scheduled.

A junior boys' play-off game between Scott & Wright and St. Louis College has been added to the program and will open the proceedings at 7 p.m. It is the second game of a best-of-three series. Scott & Wright won the first game.

Chinese Students and Scott & Peden will meet in the first match of the best-of-three intermediate A men's play-off series at 8 p.m. and Individuals will oppose Bellingham in the feature at 9 p.m.

Bruins Win, 4-2

Bruins scored a 4-2 victory over Maroons in a Victoria Minor Hockey Association midget division game at Memorial Arena yesterday.

D. Stone paced the winners with two goals and Glen Lockhart and R. Bishop scored the other for Bruins. Ted Crozier and Bud French tallied for Maroons.

Competition Looms For Bruce Humber

BRUCE Humber, coach of the Y.M.C.A. track and field team, now has competition for the coaching berth with Canada's 1952 Olympic Games track squad.

Lloyd Percival, director of the Sports College, was nominated for the post yesterday by the Central Ontario Committee of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union. He said he "would seriously consider accepting the post" if the nomination is passed by the Canadian Olympic Committee.

Humber stated last night that Percival "is a good man." The "Y" coach was nominated earlier in the month by the B.C. Branch of the A.A.U. He coached the Canadian team at the British Empire Games in 1950.

United Game Postponed, City Bills On

Officials of the Victoria and District Football Association are more optimistic than George Eade, president of Victoria United.

Eade took one look at the snow on Wednesday and phoned Coast Soccer League officials in Vancouver to postpone tomorrow's scheduled game between United and Vancouver City at Royal Athletic Park.

"Even if it remains clear, the fields will be unfit for play," Eade stated.

District officials remained hopeful and refused to postpone their games. Alcos and Duncan Native Sons are slated to meet at Lower Beacon Hill tomorrow while Esquimalt and Legion are billed at the same pitch on Sunday.

Peden Coaching Gets Test When G-Men Play Here

First benefits of the coaching of Doug Peden should be apparent when Victoria Individuals meet Bellingham G-Men in a senior "A" men's exhibition basketball game at Victoria High School tomorrow night.

Peden announced last night that he would use set plays the club has practiced since he took over as coach two weeks ago for the first time in actual competition tomorrow. He will use the same starting line-up that turned in a good performance against the powerful Alpine Dairy quintet last week.

Elmer Curtis and Wes Maulstaid will start at the wing forward positions with John Fields at the pivot post. Peden and Bob Boyes will be the starting guards. Available for relief work will be Rookie Wright, Vic Dale, Vince Clarkson and rangy Ralph Baxter, who will be playing with the Cleaners for the first time.

The G-Men, coached by Roy Wark, are bringing a powerful club that shows a record of 16 victories and four defeats for the season with an average of 53.1 points per game.

Wark, who was a high-scoring guard with Bellingham Fircrests in the defunct Pacific Coast Professional Basketball League, will start at one of the guard positions with Jack Hubbard, former Central Washington College star, on the opposite side.

Ray Scott, six foot, five-inch southpaw, pivots Larry Stephan and Bill Garrison on the starting forward line. All three are both former Western Washington College stars.

Wyck Holbrook and Bob Wallin, ex-Western Washington stars, Larry Dowen from Central Washington College, and Hal Arnaason, former forward with University of Washington Huskies, are the substitutes.

Advance sale of tickets is being handled at 650 Yates Street.

Next games, tonight: New Westminster at Victoria, Vancouver at Edmonton.

Victoria Cougars face a tough task tonight when they meet New Westminster Royals in a Pacific Coast Hockey League game at Memorial Arena. The Royals have been undefeated in nine games since the Cougars turned the trick at New Westminster on Dec. 22.

Cougars, on the other hand, currently own a seven-game losing streak and show 10 losses in their last 11 starts. In addition, they have been unable to pick up a point against Royals on Memorial Arena ice in three games this season.

Still lacking much-needed reinforcements, especially behind the blue-line, coach Roger Leger stated last night that the Cougar line-up will be little changed from the one that played in the last three games. His only change will likely have Joe Medynski as the utility man in place of Leon Bouchard.

The attacking units will have Ed Dorohoy centring Bob Frampton and Andy Hebenton, Reg Abbott pivoting Jack McIntyre and Walt Atanas and Doug Anderson making the plays for Joe Evans and Bob Ballance. Defense combinations have Leger partnering Bernie Strongman and Ernie Roche working with Fiori Goegan. Jerry Colnoir will be in goal.

Although they escaped the humiliation of becoming sole occupants of the cellar when Vancouver Canucks blanked Calgary Stampeders, 2-0, at Calgary in the only game last night, Cougars felt a little further off the final playoff berth. Canucks' victory boosted them six points ahead of the Cougars and Stampeders. The Cougars have six games in hand over the Canucks and two over Stampeders.

Nick Pidsodny turned in a sharp display to gain the shutout in his third start in the Vancouver net. The game developed into a lack-lustre affair after Canucks tallied twice in the first period.

Vancouver—Goal, Pidsodny; defense, Lavell, Bloom, Talaia, Lofvendahl, Currie; forwards, Plumb, Groves, Smith, Popein, Unger, Leier, Hartsburg, Manson, Hagen.

Calgary—Goal, Bertelli; defense, Moe, Shwetz, Dickens, Gilhooley; forwards, Thomas, Larson, Blade, Ashworth, Pechet, Miller, Agar, Goddertz, Brown, Scott.

First Period—1, Vancouver, Smith, 4.47; 2, Vancouver, Harsburg (Currie) 14.50. Penalty: Lavell, 17.53.

Second Period—No score. Penalty: Moe, 16.06.

Third Period—No score. Penalties: Lavell, 8.00; Unger, 12.27.

Stops: Bertelli, 7-3-4—14; Pidsodny, 10-7-8—25.

Matthews Trip May Mean Crack at Title

SEATTLE, Jan. 24 (AP).—Manager Jack Hurley said today he and his fighter, Harry (Kid) Matthews, would head east Saturday on "a business trip," the nature of which he would not disclose.

It is no secret that Hurley wants to get heavyweight champion Joe Walcott and Matthews into the same ring. Once ambitious for a crack at the light-heavy crown, he switched his sights to the bigger target last fall.

Hurley said he and his fighter might see Felix Bocchicchio, Joe Walcott's manager, and Harry Hunt, who wants to stage a Matthews-Walcott scrap in Las Vegas, Nev.

As for fights against anybody but Walcott, Hurley said he would be in the open market "the minute we get the championship match signed and sealed."

"Harry will need a couple of fights to sharpen him before reaching for the world title," he added.

Royals Plan European Tour

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Jan. 24 (CP).—The New Westminster Royals Pacific Coast Hockey League team may tour Europe after the season ends here.

Kenny McKenzie, owner of the league-leading Royals, said yesterday a New Westminster man is in England now exploring the possibility of securing guarantees.

He declined to identify the man.

"I'd even take my club to Czechoslovakia, if they'd let me," he said.

Midget Pucksters Plan Strategy

According to Bill Davison, coach of midget all-star team, blackboard talks are one of best methods of teaching young hockey players fundamentals of game. In preparation for game with Kerrisdale on Minor Hockey Night program Monday, Davison is shown, above, giving his team one of such talks at Memorial Arena last night. Attending session are, left to right, front row, Ron Youell, Brian Erb, Walter Harris, Allan Taylor, Ted Crozier, Art Binks, Bill Foster, Pete Dawe; back row, Glen Lockhart, Buddy Bryce, Steve Foster, Art Pyke, Dunc McCaig, Noel Boston, John Gittens, Dave Stone and Bill Dawson.

U.K. Newspaper Objects To Hope, Crosby as Golfers

LONDON, Jan. 24 (AP).—A London newspaper today told Bob Hope and Bing Crosby to stay away from the 1952 British amateur golf championship.

And it looked as if Hope had gotten caught in the middle of one of his own golf gags.

Crosby played in the 1950 British amateur at St. Andrews, Scotland. Hope played in the 1951 tournament at Portycawl, Wales. Both were beaten in the first round.

The London News Chronicle wondered if either man were coming again. It asked them by cable. Today it printed this reply from Hope:

"Certainly I hope I can work out my schedule so I can again be a big threat in British amateur. Stop Bing is coming too if he can get enough adrenalin. Best regards."

The News Chronicle played it fairly straight. But its allied evening paper, The Star, bluntly said no thanks.

"However much cinema fans may rejoice, golfers will feel only dismay at the probability of Bing Crosby and Bob Hope both playing in our amateur," said The Star in its gossip column, Star Man's Diary.

The column said:

"Bing came to St. Andrews in 1950 and was welcomed. Bob came to Porthcawl last year and was endured. Let us be spared the two of them together on one golf course."

In Hollywood, Hope blamed his poor British golfing on a week end in Paris.

"Next time I play that tournament, I won't go to Paris first," he told a reporter. "I was playing with the small British ball and a big head."

Turning serious, Hope said he and Crosby have played many charity exhibition tournaments together in this country and added:

"I guess we're used to people expecting us to clown a little."

Hope is rated a four handicap golfer.

Polly Riley First-Round Upset Victim

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 24 (INS).—Southern champion Polly Riley was the only favorite to fall today in the opening round of match play at Miami's 20th annual Helen Lee Doherty amateur golf tournament.

The sturdy Miss Riley lost one-down on the 18th hole before the precision shooting of another Texan, Pat Garner of Midland. The Fort Worth golfer held a two-up advantage on 11, but lost the 13th, 15th and 18th. Miss Garner's birdie four on the 18th provided the margin of victory as the veteran Polly came in with a par.

In other championship flight matches, defending titlist Claire Doran defeated Ann Sparrow Robertson of Miami, 2 and 1, while medalist Mae Murray overcame Charlotte Decozen of Miami, 4 and 3.

National woman's amateur champion Dot Kirby returned to her steady game after qualifying with an 80 yesterday. Today she swamped Mrs. Karl Clement of St. Petersburg, 7 and 6.

Other results included:

Bee McWane defeated Grace DeMoss one up on the 18th hole, and Edean Anderson beat Mrs. Frank Fuller of Elgin, Ill., one up on the 18th.

Two rounds are on tap tomorrow.

Postpone Meeting On Clipper Case

NANAIMO, B.C., Jan. 24 (CP).—A meeting of the British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association to rule on a demand for the life suspension of Blair Cook, owner of Nanaimo Clippers, has been canceled for the time being, B.C.A.H.A. president Dr. Larry Giovando said today.

The meeting was originally scheduled for Penticton Saturday but Giovando said bad weather conditions throughout the province will make it impossible for all B.C. executives to attend.

Ed Benson, president of the Western International Hockey League, demanded the life suspension of Cook and a year's suspension for Nanaimo playing coach Ed Shamlock after Clippers refused to take the ice for a scheduled game against Spokane Flyers.

Giovando said he has invited Benson to come here Saturday for a discussion of the matter with Cook and himself.

Boros Leads at Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 24 (AP).—Big Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., starting his second year in the professional golf circuit, turned a hot putter into a five-under-par 66 for the first-round lead in the $10,000 Phoenix open tournament today.

Putts of 15 and 20 feet on the first two holes set the stage for Boros' sizzling round.

Two strokes behind Boros were Lloyd Mangrum, leading money winner of 1951, and Cary Middlecoff.

Bill Spiller of Los Angeles, the other Negro, had a 79.

Twelve other golfers wound up the first day's play under par with 70's, including two strong challengers, Jack Burke, Jr., and Ted Kroll.

Today marked the first time Negro professionals played in a P.G.A.-sponsored tournament. Ted Rhodes of Los Angeles fired a respectable even-par 71.

High Scoring Mount View Hoopsters Hand Oak Bay Squad 51-27 Wallop

By IAN GLENDAY

If Oak Bay High School has any hopes of retaining its Inter-High School Senior Basketball League championship it had better find a formula to stop the high-scoring Mount View cage quintet.

Mount View handed the Oak Bay squad a severe jolt as the league opened its schedule yesterday by thumping the Bays, 51-27. At Esquimalt, the Dockyarders dumped Mount Douglas, 45-21.

Hitting on an average of almost 50 per cent of their field-goal attempts, the Mount View cagers had little trouble with Oak Bay. They held a 12-1 first-quarter lead and increased their margin to 17 points at the half. Only in the final stanza could Oak Bay hold the winners on even terms, splitting 22 points.

Snowsell and Murray, with 16 and 14 points, paced the winners, and Ken Barnes dumped in 11 for the losers.

TOO TALL

Esquimalt displayed too much height for Mount Douglas and as a result controlled the backboards.

Mount Douglas held the Dockyarders on even terms in the first quarter, but the winners pulled away sharply in the second and third frames, outscoring the visitors, 37-7. Jones was high man for the winners with 12 points while Skillings and Thompson, with six apiece, led the Gordon Head crew.

Line-ups:

Mount View: Snowsell 16, Murray 14, Price 3, Grainger 6, Pritchard 2, Caldwell 2, Pringle 6, Fall, Knudsen, Winter 2. Total 51.

Oak Bay: Browne, Yeulet 8, Barnes 11, Prestley, Corbett 2, Little, Sharp, C. Smith 1, Mitchell, Lewis 4, D. Smith 1. Total—27.

Esquimalt: Hunter 11, Jones 12, Cunningham, Smith, Carter, Sherpold 4, Bennett 8, Harris, Doby 10. Total—45.

Mount Douglas: Lum 2, Skillings 6, Glass 2, Ball, Thompson 6, Brown, T. Johnston 5, Lidstone. Total—21.

Totems, Cadets to Clash In Hoop Feature Tonight

Victoria High Totems will be looking for their first win of the new year at the Victoria High gym tonight when they take the floor against Royal Roads in the opening game of the Inter-Scholastic Basketball League.

The league, which was inaugurated two years ago, is composed of teams from four schools—Royal Roads, Victoria High, Victoria College and Normal School. Totems won the championship the first year, but Victoria College edged the city students by one point in the final game last year to walk off with top honors.

One thing is certain for tonight; the cadets will be in top shape for the battle. Although they dropped a 13-point exhibition decision to the Royal Roads quintet Monday night, Totems will be at full strength for the encounter and hope to redeem themselves to Victoria High's staunch supporters.

Victoria High's rep girls will be out for their second straight win over Normal School when they tangle with the future teachers in the opener, at 7. Totems B squad locks horns with Sooke intermediate A boys at 8, with the feature attraction getting under way at 9.

The colorful majorettes will make another of their eye-pleasing baton-twirling displays during the intermission of the main contest.

Golf--- Here's How

By SAM SNEAD
Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher

You position your hands in the golf grip so that they accommodate themselves to the demands of a golf swing. Your hands should be overlapped or interlocked so the two hands operate as one single tool. The left hand grips the handle as pictured at the top. The handle, as you see, has passed diagonally across the palm of the hand from the hook of the left forefinger. Then the right hand is positioned over the left with the little finger of the right hand overlapping the forefinger of the left hand. As in the left hand, the club handle passes diagonally across the right hand to the hook formed by the right forefinger. The tip of the right forefinger touches the inside of the tip of the right thumb. The "V's" formed by the juncture of the thumbs and forefingers point over the right shoulder when you're addressing the ball. Master this grip and you possess one of the fundamentals of a good golf swing.

Move to Boost Size of N.H.L. Still Hot Issue

DETROIT, Jan. 24 (AP).—Expansion of the National Hockey League from six to eight teams is a hotter issue now than at any time in years, Paul Chandler of The Detroit News said today.

"Specifically there's great heat now to have Cleveland voted into membership. After that, Buffalo is under consideration," wrote Chandler in his column.

"There is one basic reason why such a suggestion may be taken more seriously than it has in the past," he wrote.

"The N.H.L. is giving serious consideration to a plea by Boston and New York that all teams share the receipts at home and away as baseball clubs do. At present the home team keeps the whole purse."

If enacted, the share-alike doctrine would ease the way for Cleveland and Buffalo's entry, Chandler said.

"It would answer the old objection that neither of those cities had a rink large enough to support big league hockey, "with a 'minimum limit' always having been set as 12,000 seats."

Mackmen Buy Ottawa Club

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24 (INS).—The Philadelphia Athletics announced purchase of the Ottawa club in the International League yesterday and said they will continue operating in the Canadian city.

Previously the Athletics had considered moving the franchise to Jersey City but decided there would not be time for a proper reorganization.

Athletics general manager Arthur Ehlers completed the deal with the Giants at a meeting of International League directors in New York. The purchase price was not disclosed but was reported to be several hundred thousand dollars.

Smoking, Morning Coffee New Office Routine

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 24 (AP) —Since the birth of business, office employees have wondered, "Am I treated as well as the fellow in the building across the street?"

The National Office Management Association of Philadelphia attempted today to answer this question.

It conducted a survey of more than 2,000 business firms in 120 cities and came up with a report outlining the average office practices.

Perhaps the most frequent question is the office rule on smoking. The report discloses that less than three per cent of the companies interviewed forbid smoking entirely. Almost half forbid smoking by women.

Smaller organizations tend to be more lenient.

Firms in Canada and the west-central United States are least friendly to smokers.

About 30 per cent of the companies surveyed do not care how much a worker smokes or where he does it.

Between-meal snacks are another item enjoyed by some office workers and forbidden to others. The "morning coffee hour" has come to be a tradition in many places of business.

Less than three per cent of the companies concern themselves with the dress of their employees. Only two per cent require males to keep suit-coats on.

Here is the average hours schedule disclosed by the report:

Start between 8 and 8.29 a.m., one hour off for lunch. Quit between 5 and 5.29 p.m., no Saturday work.

The N.O.M.A. is a private organization of more than 11,000 individuals and agencies with chapters in the United States and Canada. It is dedicated to the "development of the science of better management through the office and the professional growth and progress of office executives."

Early Mailing Earns Praise

Citizens of Greater Victoria were thanked yesterday for their assistance in speeding a record flow of Christmas mail to its destination.

Canada's deputy postmaster-general W. J. Turnbull said that more than 27,000 temporary helpers were needed to handle holiday mail.

"Co-operation extended by the public in early mailing of their Christmas gifts and greetings was, however, even more notable than in previous years, and it was this that enabled the postal workers to cope efficiently with the unexpected difficulties that arose," Mr. Turnbull's letter said.

IS AN AIRPORT 20 FEET UNDER THE SEA?

"SCHIPHOL" in Dutch means the sea for sailing a ship. It is the name of Holland's Air Force which is now in the sea and [illegible] 20 feet under the sea. The [illegible] of the name of the legendary Greek in the Dark have transformed this harbor into a [illegible] airport for planes from four continents. How was it done? Great sluice doors were constructed to hold the ocean water back. An intricate underground drainage and pumping system—750 miles in length keeps the ground dry—and the runways are 300 feet in width and 3 feet wide. The area [illegible] in the Zuider Zee was first used [illegible] 920 Transport planes and 9 000 employees who serve an average of [illegible] passengers arriving daily from 30 countries.

Reds Claim Marks

MOSCOW, Jan. 21 (AP) — [illegible] Russian speed skating star, has broken two more world records, Soviet officials reported yesterday.

In the 1000-metre event at the rink near Alma Ata she was timed at one minute 36.6 seconds and in total points in four events claimed a record low of [illegible]. Both records previously were held by Russians.

Miss [illegible] recently bettered the women's mark for 3000 metres, the officials said.

L. Wadhams Named To Saanich Board

Recommendations that all teachers be classed as civil servants, and that a commission be set up immediately to grade all teachers in B.C., was heard by a packed meeting of ratepayers at the auditorium of the North Saanich high school last night.

Recommendation was part of a brief under preparation by the Ratepayers' Association of North Saanich.

The meeting was called by the North Sidney, Deep Cove and Mt. Newton Property Owners' Associations in order to recommend a single nomination to the Saanich No. 63 School Board.

The seat to be filled was recently vacated by Major S. S. Fisher.

L. Wadhams, retired Shell Oil man, Beaufort Road, Sidney, was chosen.

Dr. W. Newton, chairman, outlined the brief, which is being prepared for presentation to the school board and the department of education.

The highlights of the brief are:

Censure of the school board for failing to call an annual meeting.

Request for a satisfactory accounting of expenditures of the past year.

Protest the increase in teachers' salaries should not have been granted without the approval of the Ratepayers' Association and the department of education.

Recommendation that the school district be cut down to its original status, of Sidney school district, to include only North Saanich.

Dense Fog In City Slows Traffic

Victoria drivers were forced to crawl around at snail's pace last night when a dense fog blanketed the city for about two hours.

Although there were no accidents, city traffic policemen were kept busy putting drivers back on the right side of the road and untangling traffic snarls at intersections.

More light rain and milder temperatures are forecast for the lower Island areas today, with no more snow in sight for the time being.

The Island Highway north to the summit is reported to be clear and good for driving, but south of Duncan, the road has not been plowed and is extremely slippery.

Mild weather is reported from all up-Island points, with road conditions in all areas hazardous.

There have been no serious accidents in the past 24 hours.

Louis Braille, the French inventor of the Braille system of printing for the blind, was himself blind at the age of 4.

Ladysmith Council Meets in New Hall

LADYSMITH, Jan. 24.—Highlight of city council meeting this week was the holding of the first meeting in the new city hall, marking a milestone in the history of Ladysmith. It is the realization of a dream not only for himself and the present council but for former councils, said Mayor Leonard Ryan, expressing pride in the achievement of Ladysmith's first city hall.

Former quarters was the old Grand Hotel for many years, and before that the old fire hall building.

The new hall was described as a building all can be proud of, and for the size of the city—roughly a square mile—it is believed there is nothing finer in the province.

Official opening is tentatively being planned for April, with Ald. Dr. A. T. Verchere and Ald. Thomas Bertram, of works committee in charge.

Cost of the new building, furnished, is around $45,000.

Ald. Verchere brought in a report that changes in the works staff had been worked out in changed categories to the satisfaction of the committee.

Matt Gilson has been appointed graderman, in charge of machinery, and Jack Thompson has been appointed foreman in charge of works.

Ald. Bertram, reporting on the ornamental street lighting, said trouble affecting lights had been traced to an underground cable and would be dealt with when weather breaks.

Ald. A. Carey was delegated the responsibility of dealing with the Vancouver Island Union Library on matters pertaining to the local branch. The library is expected to move into new quarters in city hall next week. Such matters as rental contract will be taken up.

Withdrawal Ends Deadlock

DUNCAN, Jan. 24—Deadlock in selection of a ninth trustee for the board of School District No. 65 has ended.

Only eight stood for election in December and were returned by acclamation.

At Wednesday's board meeting, trustee Don Peck announced he wished to withdraw the name of councillor George Whittaker, leaving the field open to J. H. Moore, the other nominee.

Trustees declared Mr. Moore elected.

Voting had previously resulted in a tie, and names were submitted to North Cowichan municipal council, who returned the request that it choose one of them, stating the board had to elect the remaining trustee.

Naval Veterans Elect Stagg

George Stagg was elected president at a recent annual meeting of the Naval Veterans' Branch No. 42, at 1417 Broad Street.

First vice-president for 1952 is Fred Freeman; second vice-president, Ashley A. Walker, and treasurer, Alan B. Ford.

The executive committee will consist of L. Caddick, A. Cownden, H. R. Dawe, L. Fieldhouse, F. Guest, E. Jones, W. J. Morgan, W. V. Putman, J. B. Smith, and J. Wittcomb.

Cowichan Teachers Get Raise

DUNCAN, Jan. 24—Cowichan district teachers, except those on probation, have gained a 16 per cent wage increase. Probationers got no increase.

The District 65 school board also ratified 10 per cent wage increases for city school janitors, bus drivers, office staff, maintenance men and engineers.

The school board secretary, bus superintendent, and superintendent of works each received a 15 per cent wage boost.

Teachers' salary negotiations were wound up during the board's regular meeting, with R. Swailes, salary committee chairmen, acting for the teachers.

Roy H. Wootten, Vancouver Island Civic Council (T.L.C.), represented janitors, bus drivers and other workers.

Janitors of one-room rural schools will now get $45 a month, an increase of $16; janitors of two-room schools had their wages boosted from $56 a month to $65, and janitor W. Crofton, who looks after two separate schools, will get $75.

Man Fined $200 For Driving While Impaired

DUNCAN, Jan. 24.—Collins Pierre pleaded guilty in police court Thursday to a charge of driving a motor vehicle while his ability to drive was impaired by alcohol and was fined $200 and costs or three month in jail by Magistrate G. A. Tisdall.

Pierre was the driver of a car which was in collision with Constable Arnold MacPherson as he was making a routine patrol on the Island Highway last Saturday. The R.C.M.P. constable was standing beside a car he was checking when Pierre drove his car over on to the wrong side of the road. The collision hurled the constable a distance of 38 feet. Constable MacPherson's right boot was torn from his foot in the accident.

The court was told this morning that Constable MacPherson is out of danger now. He suffered contusions, abrasions and shock.

Party Urged to Aim At Leadership of B.C.

It is time Social Credit raised its sights and aimed for the leadership of British Columbia, according to R. B. Worley, president of Group Two, Social Credit League, at a public meeting last night.

Group Two, which was formed Jan. 9, will meet Group One next Thursday to form a constituency organization and a central executive.

"It is as cheap to run six candidates as three," Mr. Worley said, advocating organization of a provincial constituency first, to be used later as a federal organization.

"We must organize now," he said. "We may have only four months until a provincial election, and the federal election may come in October."

W. N. Chant gave the meeting an account of the Social Credit League board meeting held recently at Hope.

"The question of provincial leadership of the Social Credit party was tabled for the time being," he said.

He told members that the league was now financially sound and urged them to make the party better known to the public.

"We must make it known that we are not socialist, but just the opposite," he said. "And we must [illegible] using Alberta as an outstanding example of the Social Credit system."

Mr. Worley, urging fast action in organizing for an election, said, "The Liberals can really pour on the money for an election, and the Conservatives are in almost as good a position.

"The C.C.F. is not well off in any respect, and although the Social Credit party is not rich we are well off with what we have to offer."

A. Larochelle Requiem Mass Set Saturday

Requiem Mass will be sung at St. Andrew's Cathedral Saturday morning for Alexander Larochelle, 69, who died at Ocean Falls Saturday.

Mr. Larochelle was a resident of Ocean Falls for the past five years and was formerly of Fort Kent, Alta.

Surviving are his widow; one son, Andrew, and five daughters, Mrs. Pauline Barber, Madeleine, Mrs. Jacqueline McKee, Laurette and Therese, all of Victoria.

Prayers will be offered at Sands Mortuary, Ltd., at 8.30 p.m. Friday. Requiem Mass will be sung at 9 a.m., Saturday. Burial will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

John Dunbar To Leave Soon

Victoria baritone John Dunbar will leave for Toronto Feb. 4, and six days later will appear as a contestant on the Singing Stars of Tomorrow C.B.C. network broadcast.

The 25-year-old C.P.R. ticket clerk was successful in auditions held here last fall by Harry Adaskin, Canadian composer, critic and teacher, who picks talent for the Canadian Industries Ltd. program.

Painters to Go To Conciliation

Wage demands of 900 Vancouver painters will be taken to conciliation, Jack Eaves, agent for the Painter's Union (A.F.L.-T.L.C.), said Wednesday.

The union is seeking a 55-cent-an-hour increase for brush painters, and 70 cents for spray painters. Eaves said all union painters throughout B.C. will seek the same increase this year.

Technical Training in Britain Held Up as Example for B.C.

British Columbia could learn much from the technical training program of Britain, Herbert A. Batey told the Rotary Club yesterday.

An industrial arts instructor at Victoria Junior High School, Mr. Batey recently made an extensive tour and study of England's technical training program. He visited a large number of technical schools and industrial centres.

There, he said, the student of 11 or 12 years of age is able to enter technical training schools "which compare with Canadian high schools, but present an emphasis on technical instruction."

From there they can serve as apprentices with any one of many large industries. The young men can be trade or engineering apprentices, with their training lasting four years.

"And while serving their apprenticeships, they can go to night classes at technical colleges [illegible] week," the speaker said.

He said there was "an unbroken technical education ladder" for British youth to climb. For the young men with ability and the desire to succeed, there are opportunities to reach 'the top,"

Farmers' Institute Sees Demonstration

E. W. WHITE and A. Littler, department of agriculture, gave a practical demonstration of pruning at the homes of F. R. Hall and J. Patston, Metchosin, and H. J. Bing and J. Christie, Sooke Road, recently.

The demonstration was arranged by the Metchosin Farmers' Institute for a field day meeting.

Following the demonstration, E. W. White gave a lecture on pruning and grafting in the Institute Hall in the evening.

Port Warning Sounded Again

Harbor Master G. R. Newell has warned mariners and towboat operators that H.M.C.S. Quebec will be entering and leaving Esquimalt Harbor frequently until March 1.

"Masters of towboats are requested to comply with the special order which will close the port to civilian waterborne traffic during the time the Quebec is entering and leaving," Capt. Newell said.

Ss. Ismoria will be here in connection with her annual cruise to the Pacific northwest. She will be carrying more than 80 passengers, practically all of them round trippers from Great Britain.

Ordered Home From Hospital, Baby Boy Dies

VANCOUVER, Jan. 24 (CP) — An autopsy has been ordered into the death today of an 11-months-old baby less than 12 hours after he was discharged from St. Paul's Hospital with measles.

The baby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bouzovetsky, had been in the hospital since Jan. 5 for treatment of spinal meningitis.

Bouzovetsky said: "The doctor phoned Wednesday afternoon and said hospital regulations required that the child be taken home immediately because he had developed measles."

He and his wife took the baby home, wrapped in blankets, at 5 p.m. Wednesday. He was found dead at 4.20 a.m. today.

A spokesman for St. Paul's said a city by-law requires all general hospitals to discharge patients with an infectious disease.

"The choice forced on us was for this child to go to infectious diseases hospital or home for treatment," he said. "We discussed the case carefully and decided it was better for Garry to go home than to the infectious diseases hospital. He had recovered completely from the meningitis and a child with measles usually fares better at home than in hospital."

Alpine Group To See Slides

Victoria section, Alpine Club of Canada, will see slides of the Fortress Lake area at their public meeting at 8.15 p.m. today in Newstead Hall, 754 Fort Street.

Major Rex Gibson took the pictures of the area, which is over the Alberta and B.C. divide, 26 miles northwest of Sunwapta Pass on the Jasper-Lake Louise highway.

Major Gibson will also demonstrate the climbing rope technique now being used in mountaineering and rescue work.

Storm Victims Thank City For Clothing

Gratitude of Jamaica hurricane victims for clothing donated by people of Victoria was expressed in letters received here by Winston Reynolds, former Jamaica resident who managed the clothing drive for the nation.

Mayor of Kingston, Jamaica, Ken Hill, wrote to acknowledge receipt of 107 parcels of clothing, each weighing 20 pounds. He also wrote to former Mayor Percy George thanking the people of Victoria.

Mayor Hill's letter reads, in part: "Allow me to tender my profound gratitude and thanks to you and the people of Victoria for this generous gift."

VENGEFUL DRIVERS

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (CP) — A radar device operated secretly has resulted in many motorists being summoned for speeding. Suspicious motorists have been getting their revenge on an innocent rubber tube laid across the highway, which merely records the number of passing cars. The tube has been cut and slashed several times.

UP TO EVERY NEW DODGE

BE IT EVER SO HUMBER

When Mr. Stan Kennell, Sales Mgr. of the Wood Motors here in Victoria, was on a trip in the States last year, he kept his eyes open for any NEW ideas in body truck construction & distinctive color combinations. In Eugene, Oregon, he was sitting in a coffee shop when there drew up to Dick's Furniture van, of course it was a Dodge; the colors of which immediately caught Ken's eye. He took out his little black "idea-book" and made an immediate note of this delightful Dodge, saying to himself "when I get home I'm gonna sell one like that to Maurice, Harley & Bruce." Well, sure enuff he did, and so NOW . . . on the opening day of this FABULOUS FEBRUARY SALE we are in a better position than ever to give you fast, FREE, efficient, and courtly delivery. Watch it go by . . . It's on a pale lemon-yellow ground, and "Be It Ever So Humber" is splashed in eagle green on the sides. If you'd like a closer look, we can easily back it into your driveway, gently carry your things inside, 'cause just like Ken, we, too . . . "are up to every new dodge."

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1♦	3♥	4♠	Pass
Pass	Pass

East's jump overcall was intended as a "two-way bid." If West could raise, East figured to have an excellent play for four hearts; and if it was South who had the balance of strength, perhaps he could be kept quiet. Obviously, however, East's plan could not bear fruit, because South was so well heeled in the higher ranking spade department.

West opened the queen of hearts, and after a moment's thought, East overtook the trick with king and returned the jack of diamonds.

The significance of this defense was not lost upon declarer—he realized that East was out for a diamond ruff. So South took precautions. He led two rounds of clubs, then continued with a third round, to get rid of his second heart and in that way prevent East from putting his partner in with a heart.

This was a sound idea on declarer's part, but when East unkindly ruffed the third round of clubs, South went wrong. No doubt he was disgusted at the club break; whatever his reason was, he overruffed East — and that was his finish! Now, when he knocked out the trump ace, East returned a low heart on the one chance of finding his partner with the jack, and since that desperate effort succeeded, East was able to ruff the diamond return for the setting trick.

South should have followed through with his original plan! There was no point in overruffing East on the third round of clubs—all South had to do was discard his losing heart. Then East could never have put his partner in for a diamond return, and declarer's only losers would have been the spade ace, the original heart trick, and East's club ruff.

Uncle Wiggily Story - - -

By Howard Garis

UNCLE WIGGILY IN A DRIFT

Uncle Wiggily was still thinking about the party of the Christmas toys when he reached Snow Hill. It was a fine hill for coasting and as Uncle Wiggily stood on the top, and looked down the hill, all covered with snow he said:

"I shall have a lot of fun coasting here. And after I have a few sled rides I may be able to tell whether that party of the Chrismas toys was real or only a dream. But if it was a dream it was a very jolly dream."

Uncle Wiggily was all alone on Snow Hill. It was a bright day and the sun was shining on the snow making it sparkle like a million diamonds.

"When the Lady Mouse Teacher of Hollow Tree School lets the animal boys and girls out of their classes this afternoon," said Uncle Wiggily to himself, "this hill will be teeming and swarming with children. The hill will be so crowded there will be no room for an old rabbit gentleman like me. So I had better have my coasting fun all alone by myself."

The snow on the hill had been packed down by several days of coasting, so now the hill was very smooth. It was a long hill and at the bottom stood Hollow Tree School.

'I sure am going fast.'

"I will coast down very fast when I get started," said Uncle Wiggily to himself. "I hope I don't go so fast that I cannot stop. If I can't stop myself I might coast right into Hollow Tree School. But I think I can put on the brakes by dragging my paws and then I can stop in time. Well, here I go!"

Uncle Wiggily was going to coast downhill "Belly-flopper" style. That is he was going to lie face down on the sled with his hind legs thrust out over the back end of the sled. In that way he could steer himself, first by dragging his left hind leg and then his right hind leg.

"If I find myself going too far to the left side of the coasting hill, I will steer over to the right," said Mr. Longears to himself as he belly-flopped down on Buster's sled at the top of the hill. "And if I find myself going too far to the right, I will drag one hind leg and steer over to the left. Oh, this will be fun!"

By kicking out with both hind legs, Uncle Wiggily pushed the sled to the very top of the hill. He looked down the long slope at the bottom of which he could see Hollow Tree School.

"I wonder if it is recess time?" thought Mr. Longears to himself. "If it is, when the boys and girls come out to play they can see me coasting downhill. But perhaps it is a little too early for recess. Anyhow I am going to coast down half a dozen times. And maybe at the last coast the boys and girls will see me. So here I go!"

The rabbit gentleman gave one last push. This sent him and the sled over the top flat part of the hill and onto the going-down slope. At first the sled did not go very fast. But when it reached an icy, slippery part of the hill it began to whizz and zizz and gizz!

"Whee!" whistled Uncle Wiggily through his big front teeth. "I sure am going fast! This is a jolly coast!"

But halfway down the hill something happened. Mr. Longears must have steered too far to the left or too far to the right. For, suddenly, the sled shot off the hill and into a big, deep snowdrift.

For a moment Uncle Wiggily did not know what had happened. He felt himself flying through the air. For a time he soared up. Then he began to go down. Then, all of a quickness the rabbit gentleman and the sled were deep down inside the drift.

Uncle Wiggily was out of sight. But don't worry, boys and girls. Uncle Wiggily is going to be saved. I will tell you how in tomorrow's story, if the butter knife will spread some chocolate all over the loaf of bread so that it looks like ice cream cake.

CBR Now CBU at 690 Kilocycles; Change Directs More Power to North

Victoria radio listeners today will find that an old friend has moved to a new house.

The C.B.C.'s Vancouver outlet is now CBU, and has moved to 690 kilocycles.

Faithful southern Vancouver Island listeners to the old CBR are assured that the boost in power from 5,000 to 10,000 watts, and the new transmission pattern of CBU, will not affect reception in the least.

A new, 404-foot tower, which acts in the same way as a lamp reflector, will throw a reinforced signal into the northern part of the province.

CBU's coverage will form the pattern of a heart, with the point to the north; one lobe extending over the southern tip of Vancouver Island, and the other over the Fraser Valley.

The reason behind the concentration of power into northern B.C. is explained by the fact that this portion, because of the province's difficult terrain, did not receive adequate broadcast coverage.

Listeners in the southwest corner of B.C. on the other hand, can take their pick of a large number of stations; either of the C.B.C.'s national networks; local, private stations in Victoria, Vancouver or New Westminster; four major American networks, or any one of dozens of U.S. Pacific coast stations.

[illegible] will be divided into 49 per cent musical programs, and 51 per cent spoken. Network broadcasts will take up 85 per cent of its time, of which 78 per cent will be non-commercial, and 22 per cent sponsored.

Vagrant Arrested At Door

Magistrate H. C. Hall asked for a probation report on James Ross, no fixed address, who was arrested and charged with vagrancy by city police after he was discovered crouched beside [illegible] Wednesday night.

Detective Norman Bath said he saw Ross loitering near Government and View. Detective Bath followed Ross up View and then he suddenly disappeared over a picket fence and into the rear of the dairy.

Detective Bath, armed with a flashlight, followed Ross over the fence and apprehended him in the doorway.

He said, "Well, you got me for vagrancy but I haven't broke in yet," Detective Bath told the court.

Francis J. Gaskell, 870 Johnson, was fined $300 for selling liquor.

Magistrate H. C. Hall had an unusual request from motorist George F. Lowe, aged about 67, of 16 Bushby Street, who was charged with careless driving.

Lowe asked that his license be canceled permanently.

Magistrate Hall said the license will be suspended and that he would report to the motor vehicle branch that Lowe "doesn't want to drive further." He also fined him $35.

C. H. Ouellette, 1020 Catherine, was fined $40 for careless driving and had his license suspended for three months except for business purposes.

Joseph Goubault, H.M.C.S. Crusader, was fined $25 for driving without a current driver's license.

Two Motorists Each Given $40 Fine For Failure to Remain at Accidents

Two motorists who failed to remain at the scene of an accident were each fined $40 by Magistrate H. C. Hall in Saanich police court yesterday.

William Morris, West Saanich Indian Reserve, pleaded guilty to failing to remain at the scene of an accident on the West Saanich Road. Police found tail light and license plate of his car at the scene.

[illegible] West, was fined for failing to remain at an accident Jan. 19.

A suspended sentence was given to Robert McColl, 282 Kerwood, View Royal, who was accused of breaking into the Craigflower Service Station. He was ordered to post a $1,000 bond to be of good behavior for one year.

Frederick Parkington, Sidney, charged with being in control of a car while his ability to do so was impaired by alcohol, was fined $200.

Police said Parkington was found asleep in his car at Carey and Tillicum Jan. 18.

"I did the best I could in a bad situation," Parkington told the magistrate.
